The ASSISTANT-SECRETARY announced a donation of Seeds from the Japanese Commissioner.

The awards of the Fruit and Floral Committee having been read, the Rev. M. J. BERKELEY proceeded to explain some of the principal points of the day's exhibition.

The CHAIRMAN having called on Mr. J. Hungerford Pollen to introduce the subject announced for this day's discussion,

Mr. POLLEN addressed the meeting on the artistic arrangement of Flower and Fruit Shows.

The substance of these remarks was as follows:—

We are assailed on all sides for the ugly rubbishy state in which our exhibitions are arranged; and we are told, as in Dr. Masters' admirable report of the Amsterdam Exhibition, how well these things can be conducted if we only have the gift of doing so.

Well, there seems to be some truth in the accusation, though, as Professor Richenbach observes, flowers and fruit are the real objects of shows, and not artistic display; still something can and ought to be done if we want to impart a general interest to these exhibitions, and to improve the public taste and knowledge.

To go to the point, and try and suggest means for this object, we may generally consider how Nature deals with her plants and flowers.

First—By the light she sheds round every object so abundantly.

Second—By the invariable armory of leaves or foliage of some kind, in large proportion to the colours of the flowers and fruit.

Third—By the repose which we see on the ground.

First, then, what is the best place for an exhibition? An arcade or room is suitable for artworks, sculpture, &c., because the delicate play of surface mouldings is so brought into fine shadows, but for plants which require light all round them, a tent is more natural and better. More light is so admitted, and it is delightfully distributed by the medium of the canvass.

If other countries do some of these things better, no country has produced such a tent as that constructed by the lamented Captain Fowke. No show can compare with the rhododendron show there, where light, foliage, and earth combine to help it out.

Second.—Observing the show of to-day, we see the foliage plants separated from the flowers on the opposite side of the room. If these had formed a background for the others, how much would have been done by that simple expedient. Then, again, harmony of colour can be considered even though the plants are still kept in collections for the judges.

Third.—As nature provides turf, and shows fruit and flowers so much better on it, why should we not, as may be seen in Continental displays, grow turf in boxes, or cut it and bring it up. These boxes could be slanted any way, or raised perpendicularly like banks. Or we might put the fruit on the turf, or the grass grown in these boxes.

Another beautiful element for flower-showing is white paper, in which many foreign markets display their plants and cut flowers. It is the same in effect as the brilliant white mounts we use for water-colour drawings.

In Italy they have a beautiful method, once well seen by the speaker in the Monastery in the Apennines, where a Monk chalked out a carpet or mosaic, laid buds of box on the chalk to make green lines of demarcation, and filled the spaces with petals of blue, red, and other wild flowers brought in by children in basketsful. This might not always be possible or easy. It might, too, be too much for the main object of the show. But to some extent or other it could be adopted. We have in our own gardens something similar in bright sands and gravel; why not utilise such a system?

Of the advisability of keeping many plants and even fruits below rather than on the level with the eye, something was to be said. No doubt, many such objects looked their best from above, and were more agreeably seen in that position.

It was not, however, the speaker's object to do more than offer suggestions and provoke discussion.

As to admitting that English growers and gardeners were inferior to foreigners, that was all nonsense. The English gardener has better turf, and is second to no one in skill and inventiveness, and all that was needed was to call attention to a real want, and to devise means, without interfering with the real requirements of a show, for making it as attractive as those necessary requirements would admit.

The Rev. Canon Rock and Mr. Wilson Saunders also made some remarks on the subject.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

TUESDAY, FEB. 13, 1866.

His Grace the Duke of Buccleuch in the Chair.

The minutes of the last meeting having been read and signed, Messrs. Fortune and Booth were appointed scrutineers.

The SECRETARY (Mr. Wilson Saunders) then read the following Report:—

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL TO THE GENERAL MEETING,

FEBRUARY 13, 1866.

1. In accordance with the announcement made at the last annual meeting of the Society, the accounts annexed are laid before the Fellows this year so as to show in a simple form the financial results of the year's working. A full statement of the Society's accounts has also been printed, as directed by the charter, and copies can be had on application at the offices at S. Kensington.

2. The Council have the satisfaction of announcing to the Society that the number of its Fellows continues to increase, and that the amount of their subscriptions, which form the least fluctuating of its sources of income, has risen in a higher ratio than the increase in its members. The number of Fellows on the books on the 1st of January 1866 is nine more than it was on the 1st of January of last year; but the subscriptions for 1865 exceed those of 1864 by 138*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.* This comparatively greater augmentation in the amount subscribed than in the number of Fellows is to be attributed to the important privileges which a subscriber of four guineas now enjoys from both his tickets being transferable.

3. It is with great sorrow that the Council refer to the heavy losses by death which the Society has lately suffered. It has seldom, if ever, happened in the experience of the Society that three men of eminent horticultural attainments have passed away in one year; and whatever the extension of the love of gardening—however illustrious the men enrolled in the ranks of horticulture, the decease of three such men as Dr. Lindley, Sir William Hooker, and Sir Joseph Paxton will be regarded as a serious calamity. The Council propose to show how much the labours of these distinguished men were appreciated in this Society by endeavouring to obtain the co-operation of Government, and bodies pursuing branches of science collateral with horticulture, in obtaining a life-sized group of them. They have also voted that a memorial be instituted, in the form of a medal, in honour of Dr. Lindley's exertions in carrying out the objects of the Society, to be awarded only at the Fruit and Floral meetings which he so long and so ably supported.

4. The balance of the receipts from the public throughout the year, and the expenditure for bands, and for prizes, &c., at exhibitions, is more favourable to the Society than in 1864; and the result of the year's working tends to show that small and frequent exhibitions, as they are more conducive to horticultural progress, so also are they less likely to occasion pecuniary losses than the large exhibitions of past years. The Council continue, therefore, to be of opinion that the Society should hold one great general exhibition only in each year; and the best time for this exhibition they consider to be the end of May or the beginning of June.

5. The income arising from letting portions of the arcades to exhibitors of horticultural implements and ornaments is fast increasing, and the amount shown under this head in the accompanying accounts will, it is expected, be nearly doubled in the next financial statement. The Council have received also many indications that the opportunity of comparing the manufactures of various firms, afforded by these exhibitions, is very generally appreciated by Fellows who have desired to make purchases for their gardens. This arrangement, therefore, works well both for the Society and for the exhibitors. The rentals from these lettings did not, it will be remembered, originally form part of the income of the Society, but were presented to it by H.M.'s Commissioners for 1851. The Commissioners have now also liberally given to the Society the payments by the contractor for the right of supplying refreshments in the gardens.

6. A comparison of the expenditure of the Society for the years 1863, 1864, and 1865, will show that a system of retrenchment in the working expenses has been steadily pursued; and although in future the scientific work of the Society will be carried on, as will hereafter be explained, on a scale necessitating an increased expenditure under this head, the Council hope that their arrangements will leave savings on other items which will more than counterbalance the outlay on this, the first and the special object of the Society.

7. The number of entrances to the gardens at South Kensington have been—

	115,521	in 1863,
	185,092	in 1864,
	231,599	in 1865.

Of these entrances during the latter halves of 1864 and 1865 (before July 1864 the books were not so kept as to admit of comparison in this respect), 60,705 and 83,530 respectively have been Fellows and their friends. The numbers are exclusive of the exceptional occasions of the uncovering of the Prince Consort's memorial in 1864, and of the anniversaries of the Prince Consort's birthday in the last two years. This increasing popularity of the gardens with the Fellows as well as with the public augurs well for the future of the Society.

8. In their annual report in February 1864, the Council announced to the Fellows their desire to set apart portions of the garden at South Kensington to be planted by nurserymen and florists of eminence, desirous of exhibiting the plants specially cultivated by them. The magnificent rhododendron exhibitions of Messrs. Waterer and Godfrey, in the Great Tent, and the brilliant display of tulips by Messrs. Henderson, last year, have fully justified the anticipations formed of the interest which would be thus given to the gardens; and to this interest the exhibition of spring flowers by Mr. William Paul—the commencement, probably, of a series of similar exhibitions—formed no unimportant addition. That the nurserymen making these exhibitions desire to repeat and improve them, the Council consider to be the best criterion by which to judge of their appreciation by the Fellows.

9. The fruit and floral committees have never been more constant in their work than in the past year. The average attendance of the members has been 9 and 15, and the number of meetings 19 and 21 respectively; and the subjects brought before them for adjudication have been of unusual interest and importance. The committees have also carried out at Chiswick some useful trials on bedding and other plants, and a valuable series of experiments on peas. Reports on these subjects will be found in the last number of the Proceedings for the year 1865.

10. The fruit and floral meetings for the Fellows, which have followed the committee meetings, have created a very general interest amongst those specially devoted to horticulture. They are a revival of the old Regent Street meetings, with which, in the beauty of the objects exhibited at least, and in the actual numbers of visitors present, they do not compare unworthily; but, considering the excellence and rarity of the objects exhibited, they have not created that interest among the Fellows generally which might have been expected. The average attendance at these meetings in the month of May was 560, and of this number a portion only entered the Exhibition-room. There is evidence, however, tending to show that the small attendance on these occasions has been due rather to ignorance as to the nature of these meetings than to indifference to the pleasure which such exhibitions are capable of affording. The steps to be taken to render the Tuesday meetings better known to the Fellows will be hereafter mentioned.

11. The very large attendances at the Saturday shows and promenades, as compared with the attendances at promenades in former years, give evidence, indeed, that the exhibition of flowers adds greatly to the attraction of such assemblies for the whole body of the Fellows. In the month of May in 1864 the average attendance of visitors on a promenade day was under 400. In 1865, the addition of a small flower show to the promenade raised the average attendance at the same period of the year to upwards of 2,000, of whom three-fourths were Fellows and their friends.

12. The produce of Chiswick has not yielded so good a return as was expected. This was due to two causes: the strawberry crop entirely failed; and, although the wall-fruit was good and plentiful, the general abundance of fruit during the past season greatly reduced the prices obtained. The Fellows have, as usual, been the chief purchasers of the more expensive fruits, and the Saturday shows have been instrumental in enabling Fellows to purchase fruits also which would otherwise have been sent to market. Further arrangements are being made for the coming season, by which Fellows, to whom it is inconvenient to go to Chiswick, will be enabled to partake more freely of the privilege of purchasing the fruit and flowers grown there.

13. The number of visits made to the Chiswick Gardens by Fellows during the past year was 1,003, and 3,672 persons were admitted by Fellows' orders. Different members of the Society have received 1,530 packets of cuttings, principally of fruit-trees; and the number of plants, many of them of considerable value, distributed by ballot has been 6,265; packets of flower and vegetable seeds to the number of 376,884 have also been distributed among the Fellows.

14. The Fellows will have remarked with pleasure that progress is being made towards the completion of the structures of the garden at South Kensington. A considerable portion of the spandrels of the arches of the Upper Arcades has been filled with terra-cotta bas-reliefs, and a contract has been accepted for the completion, before the out-door season commences, of the frieze ornamental work of the same arcades. This decoration, it will be remembered, forms a portion of the work undertaken at the commencement of last year by H.M. Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1851.

15. In their arrangements for the coming season the Council have endeavoured to work out the idea of uniting science and art. The past labours of this Society have been the source from which the other nations of Europe have chiefly derived their knowledge of the practice of sound gardening; and there is everything to encourage it in the endeavour to retain and increase the prestige it has already gained. The love of gardening is stronger than ever in the English people; their appreciation of good fruit and vegetables is certainly not exceeded abroad; and the wealthy are yearly more lavish in their pleasure-grounds and gardens. Botanists, meanwhile, are seeking to utilise, for the advantage of their own special studies, the appliances which horticulturists possess for aiding them in their work; and horticulturists are beginning to feel how much assistance they might receive from the physiological botanist. At the International Exhibition which will, by the consent of the Council, partly take place this year in the Gardens of the Royal Horticultural Society, it is proposed that a Botanical Congress shall be held, and many botanists of eminence are likely to visit this country on the occasion.

16. By the appointment of the Rev. M. J. Berkeley to advise the Society on the botanical questions that arise, a link has been introduced which will tend to place horticulture in its proper relation to the general study of the vegetable kingdom; and by uniting with him two practical horticulturists—the one an eminent authority in pomology, and the other in floriculture—the Council hope that the ideas evolved by experiments at Chiswick, through the labours of the fruit and floral committees, and by the results of the shows, will be carried to practical conclusions. Mr. Berkeley, Doctor Hogg, and Mr. Moore will supervise the operations and conduct the experiments at Chiswick; they will watch and report on, for publication in the Society's Journal, the fruit and floral meetings, and the shows of the Society; and the Journal, edited by Mr. Berkeley, will, as well as the Proceedings, be issued gratis to the Fellows. It will also be the duty of Dr. Hogg and Mr. Moore (the botanical examination is conducted by the Examiner for the Society of Arts) to examine candidates for the Society's certificates and diplomas, both in theoretical and practical gardening; and to advise on the mode of instruction of the young gardeners at Chiswick. Chiswick will thus afford to young men desirous of taking a high position in their profession the advantage of a training in a garden where a systematic course of experiment is being carried out.

17. By these arrangements the Council hope to effect two important objects. First, to spread a knowledge of what is being done both by the Society and by horticulturists generally—so that a system may be worked out by which the field of labour may be partitioned among horticulturists, and experiments be suggested to them. Secondly, to procure the instruction, either at Chiswick, or by the inducements held out to successful competitors at the examinations, of as many as possible of the rising generation of gardeners in those processes and methods which are likely to lead to successful results. In some such manner only can we hope to bring together a sufficient number of facts for arriving at safe generalisations on the effects of particular modes of treatment on vegetable life.

18. The charge for admission to the public has been made half-a-crown for all Tuesdays during the London season; and with the view of making the fruit and floral meetings, which are held on the first and third Tuesday of the month, better known to the Fellows, and as popular as they deserve to be, the second promenade in the week during the summer months will be held on the Tuesday. This promenade will commence at four o'clock, so as not to interfere with the fruit and floral meetings, which take place at three. The Fellows will retain the privilege of admitting two friends, and of using their orders on this day.

19. It can hardly have escaped the attention of the Fellows that the number of the Society's contributions on the Saturday has been gradually increasing, and the prizes offered for this year's weekly shows will act as a further stimulus to induce exhibitors to send such plants, flowers, and fruit as they may happen to have in perfection at the end of the week. The Council desire to recall to the Society that, in instituting those weekly shows, it was specially desired to give to Fellows the opportunity of bringing to notice such beautiful objects as would otherwise escape exhibition.

20. Wishing well to the International Exhibition before alluded to, the Council have concluded arrangements with the Committee of Management of the International Exhibition and Botanical Congress which will doubtless prove satisfactory to the Fellows. Fellows and debenture-holders of the Society are to have free admission to the whole show—both to the portion which is within and that which is without the grounds of the Society—on the second day of the exhibition; and such portions of the show as may be exhibited in the garden will be open to Fellows and debenture-holders at all times, excepting when the plants and fruits are being arranged and judged. The Committee of Management of the International Exhibition have further undertaken to pay the Society the sum of 300*l.* in lieu of the receipts at the doors for the week in which the exhibition takes place.

21. It is with pleasure that the Council announce to the Fellows that the spacious hall for all kinds of meetings connected with the promotion of arts and sciences is about to be erected, under the patronage of the Queen and the presidency of the Prince of Wales, on the vacant site between the Conservatory and Hyde Park. It will be an amphitheatre like the Colosseum at Rome, capable of seating 6,000 persons with great comfort, and affording ample and suitable space for flower shows and horticultural gatherings. This hall will in many ways promote the interests of the Society's Gardens, and the Council have felt it their duty to afford temporary accommodation for the offices connected with it. A copy of the prospectus of the Central Hall will be given to any Fellow of the Society who applies for one at these offices.

22. The Council report with gratification that their appeal for subscriptions for the late foreign collector of the Society, Mr. Weir, who was disabled in its service, has been liberally responded to by many of the Fellows; but the sum received is as yet too small for the purchase of an annuity adequate for his maintenance, and the list still remains open. The Council do not propose, this year, at least, to employ a foreign collector on the Society's sole responsibility; but two gentlemen, travelling on their own account—the one in Eastern Africa, the other in the Brazils—have received commissions on the part of the Society, and the Council will take every other available opportunity of introducing new and interesting plants into their Garden. A collection of plants made at Esperança, in the province of Bahia, Brazil, has just been received from Mr. E. Reed, and they will be carefully cultivated at Chiswick for distribution among the Fellows.

23. It is with satisfaction that the Council call the attention of the Fellows to the list of prizes offered by members of their own body, and by other members of the Society, for special productions. These prizes are to be awarded at the show on the 14th June next. Some of them are to encourage the growth of tropical fruits, a branch of science of great interest to horticulturists, and hitherto attended with many difficulties. These difficulties will doubtless be surmounted, and the Council will be glad to aid the endeavours now being made to overcome them in every way in their power. As a further inducement to experiment, they are enabled through the liberality of a Member of the Council to offer a prize of 10 guineas for the best Essay on the Growth of Tropical Fruits, which may be sent to the Council during the present year.

Sir ANDREW SCOTT WAUGH then moved the adoption of the Report.

The motion having been seconded by Mr. BLENKINS,

Mr. GRENVILLE rose, and requested some explanation might be given as to the agreement between the International Horticultural Exhibition and the Society, alluded to in the 20th paragraph of the Report.

Mr. H. COLE, C.B., said that the main part of the Exhibition was not to be held in these grounds; but if it were to be, he thought the arrangements were still such as would give satisfaction to the Fellows of the Society. They would get admission as soon as the Exhibition was thrown open to the public. The first day was to be limited to those who are really paying the expenses of the Exhibition, which, of course, would be very large. Such portions of the Show as may be held in the Gardens—that is, in the Society's property—would be open to the Fellows and Debenture-holders at all times, excepting when the plants and fruit are being arranged and judged; besides this, the first public day they would have free admittance to the whole Exhibition.

Mr. GRENVILLE having expressed his entire satisfaction at the arrangements,

The CHAIRMAN put to the meeting the motion on the Report moved by Sir A. Waugh, and seconded by Mr. Blenkins, 'That this Report be received and approved of.'

The resolution was unanimously carried.

Mr. SAUNDERS then read the Report of the Auditors.

The CHAIRMAN informed the meeting that the scrutineers had reported the unanimous election of the Members of the Council and Officers for the ensuing year, as follows:—

The retiring Members of the Council were Mr. Blandy, Mr. Kelk, M.P., and Major Trevor Clarke; in their room were elected the Viscount Sandon, the Rt. Hon. W. Cowper, M.P., and Mr. Sigismund Rucker, F.L.S.

The following were elected Officers:—His Grace the Duke of Buccleuch, as President; Mr. Geo. F. Wilson, F.R.S., as Treasurer; and Lieut.-Col. Scott, R.E., as Secretary.

The Expenses Committee were Mr. Geo. F. Wilson, Lieut.-Col. Scott, R.E., and Mr. Henry Cole, C.B.

The Auditors—Mr. James Nicholson, Mr. Jonathan Clark, and Mr. Robert Hudson—were reappointed.

The ASSISTANT-SECRETARY read a Report from Mr. Lee, stating that the value of the stock examined by himself and Mr. Parker were at South Kensington, 3,783*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.*; at Chiswick, 2,202*l.* 15*s.*; making a total of 5,986*l.* 6*s.* 6*d.*

Mr. WALCOTT then called attention to the cheap admissions to the public; at the last annual meeting it had been agreed to try them for that year; he now asked what had been the success of this measure.

Lord HENRY LENNOX explained that financially it had been a greater success than any other item that had come into the exchequer, but he hoped the matter would be fully discussed.

Colonel CHALLONER objected to the cheap admissions—it lowered the character of the Gardens. He would sooner have the Gardens thrown open free on certain days than have so low a sum as 3*d.* charged for admission.

Mr. BOWRING, as a representative of the Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1851, reminded the Fellows that the ground occupied by the Gardens had been established by the proceeds of that Exhibition—so to speak, with the shillings of the million—and therefore, to some extent, it might be considered the property of the public at large. He felt, however, much inclined to agree with Col. Challoner, and advocated, instead of a threepenny charge, a free day once a week during the dull time of the year.

Lord HENRY LENNOX said that the subject had already been under the consideration of the Council. Understanding that some objections would be raised to the cheap admissions, he had come that day prepared to propose another alternative to the meeting. The Council felt that one way or another the gardens ought in the dull time of the year to be made available for the amusement and recreation of artizans; they were anxious to hear from the meeting present what was their opinion. Should, therefore, the threepenny admissions be continued, or should certain days in the week during the autumn be made free? The Council had but one object, the advancement of the interests of the Royal Horticultural Society.

After some further discussion, in which several Fellows took part, it was agreed to leave the matter in the hands of the Council.

Mr. SMITH spoke in terms of praise of the manner in which the Tuesday Floral Meetings had been conducted, and suggested that it would be interesting to many of the Fellows to have occasional elementary lectures on botany.

Mr. BOWRING proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman for his conduct in the chair; this being unanimously carried, the meeting separated.

It will be sufficient if Fellows will make a mark opposite the numbers of the lots they select, and return their lists, with their names and addresses written thereon, to the Assistant-Secretary, at the Offices of the Society, South Kensington, W., on or before Tuesday, the 24th of April. After that date no applications can be attended to. The result of the ballot will be communicated in the "Proceedings," and the Plants, which the Fellows may obtain by it, as well as those at the next ballot, will be forwarded all together at the close of the season, unless Fellows intimate their wish to have them sooner, and in that case they are requested to notify how they wish them sent.

The list of plants is enclosed with this number of the "Proceedings."

MR. WILSON SAUNDERS' PRIZE.

The Council desire to call the attention of Fellows to the concluding paragraph of their Yearly Report:—"As a further inducement to experiment, they are enabled, through the liberality of a Member of Council [Mr. W. Wilson Saunders], to offer a prize of 10 guineas for the best Essay on the Growth of Tropical Fruits, which may be sent to the Council during the present year."

IMPERIAL AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION OF AUSTRIA.

The Council are desirous of calling the attention of Fellows specially to the accompanying letter from the Imperial Austrian Consul-General, and to request them to use their best endeavours to give the letter as wide a circulation as possible:—

January 26, 1866.

Sir,—The Committee of the Imperial Agricultural Exhibition, which will take place at Vienna in May next, is desirous that the division representing matters pertaining to horticulture and horticultural buildings should be well represented.

As the English management and practice of horticulture, and all its branches, have been so eminently successful, and are so highly thought of, the Vienna committee would thankfully receive from the Royal Horticultural Society of England, and other societies in this country connected with horticulture, plans, sketches, and models of farm-buildings, sheds, granaries, stables, and manufactories, plans for watering and drainage, and particulars connected with the management of forests.

I trust, therefore, that you will be good enough to use your influence with gentlemen connected with horticulture, to induce them to exhibit the above-mentioned objects, and as it is particularly desired that this branch of the Vienna Exhibition should be successful, I shall be happy to receive, with a view to communicating with them direct, the names of any other societies to which you may consider it would be advisable to write them on this subject.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,

A. ROTHSCHILD,

To the Secretary of the Horticultural Society in London:

Imperial Austrian Consul-General.

Correspondence.

Jersey, January 1st, 1866.

Dear Sir,—If you deem the following worth communicating to the Committee for publication, be so good as to do so. I am aware that the tank system of heating and forcing has been practised by many in past years on a large scale. This led me to consider how, for amusement, which watching the growth of plants daily might afford, it might be practised in my breakfast-room. Accordingly I got made a pan of stout zinc, of the following size—twelve inches wide at top, ten inches deep, and nine inches wide at bottom; below this is a false bottom three and a-half inches deep, to contain boiling water. To this lower part is affixed a short spout, to be closed by an ordinary cork, or, if preferred, a tap. On this side of the pan is a small pipe soldered, with a wide mouth, all of zinc, by which to pour the hot water into the lower space. Within the pan broken oyster shells or any convenient drainage is placed, two or three inches in depth, through which the warm air from the hot water is carried into and absorbed by the earth above it, which should be seven or eight inches deep—any mixture of soil which the amateur may fancy.

Plants from the seeds of geraniums, camellias, acacias, liliums, and others, besides cuttings, have been raised by me in this way; every morning at breakfast-time letting off the cold water into a convenient vessel, corking the spout close, then pouring in a teapotful of boiling water.

Persons residing in towns, not having a garden but possessing a greenhouse, would find this a cheap and entertaining mode of raising plants from seed. They should be transplanted or potted as if grown in ordinary garden frames.

It may be added that such forcing pans may be made of any size; I have one three feet long.

I am, dear Sir, yours truly,

J. LE COUTEUR, Col.

The President, his Grace the Duke of Buccleuch, K.G., has named the evening of Tuesday, June 19th, for the conversazione. Attention has been called on p. lxxxii. to the arrangement made with Mr. Eyles, by which Fellows of the Royal Horticultural Society, as well as the Public, can avail themselves of that officer's advice upon all matters connected with gardening, arranging conservatories, laying-out new or improving existing gardens.

Mr. Eyles was engaged, under the late Sir Joseph Paxton, at Chatsworth and Sydenham, for twelve years, and carried out all the garden arrangements of the interior of the Crystal Palace under his direction; and he was subsequently entrusted with the laying-out of the new Gardens of the Royal Horticultural Society at South Kensington, from plans prepared by Mr. Nesfield.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

TUESDAY, FEB. 12, 1867.

His Grace the Duke of Buccleuch in the Chair.

The minutes of the last meeting having been read and signed, Messrs. Fortune and Booth were appointed scrutineers.

The ASSISTANT-SECRETARY (Captain Cockerell) then read the following Report:—

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL TO THE GENERAL MEETING,

FEBRUARY 12, 1867.

1. Notwithstanding the monetary distress of the past year, the Council are able to report to the Fellows an increase in the amount of annual subscriptions. The sums paid by Fellows as subscriptions in 1865 amounted to 7975*l.* 1*s.* 1*d.*, and, as will be seen by the annexed statement of receipt and expenditure, their annual subscriptions rose to 8176*l.* 9*s.* 6*d.* in 1866.

2. The rents for the Arcade lettings to Horticultural implement-makers have also increased more than 80 per cent. since the year 1865, and during the last 12 months 320*l.* have been paid to the Society under this head, in addition to the sum of 149*l.* 17*s.* received for Her Majesty's Commissioners of 1851 for the stalls in the South-Eastern Arcade.

3. The sales of Garden produce from Chiswick for 1866 have likewise exceeded those of the previous year. In 1865 these sales brought in 650*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.*; in 1866 they amounted to 717*l.* 15*s.* 5*d.* But for the failure of a considerable portion of the Fruit crops—a failure under which all gardens in and about London suffered—the receipts from this source would have been considerably greater.

4. It will be seen, therefore, that in the sources of income least liable to fluctuation, the Society has made decided progress, and although the receipts from exhibitions and for daily admissions have fallen considerably below the average, the Council are of opinion that the affairs of the Society, though requiring strict economy, are in an encouraging position, for these deficiencies are traceable to causes which have affected every undertaking, whilst the progress made can only be attributable to the increasing popularity of the Society, and to the daily increasing number of wealthy residents in the neighbourhood of the Gardens.

5. The falling off in the receipts for exhibitions and admissions to the Gardens is in part also attributable to another cause which will not probably be of frequent recurrence. Although a payment was made to the Society from the funds of the International Horticultural Exhibition—and this payment was equivalent to that which is generally cleared by the First Great Show of the Society, the place of which it took—it by no means represented the whole diminution which it occasioned, directly and indirectly, to the receipts of the Society. It was proposed, when this arrangement was made, that the International Exhibition should be open for four days only, but at the end of the four days its receipts fell so far short of the anticipations of its promoters that they found it necessary to apply to the Council for an extension of the time for which the Gardens were granted. The Council, in the desire of saving from heavy loss those who had so liberally given their names as the guarantors of an undertaking devoted to the interests of Horticulture, at once acceded to the request, and, from the serious financial failure which it threatened to become, the undertaking was converted into a brilliant success.

6. A further deficiency in the receipts, as compared with those of 1865, was occasioned by the abolition of the cheap admissions, in compliance with the wish expressed by the Fellows at the last annual general meeting, and unfortunately the free admissions which were granted to the public in lieu of them was not so successful as to induce the Council to repeat them. They were taken advantage of less by the classes for whom the boon was intended than by those whose presence in the Gardens the Council had no desire to encourage.

7. It may be remembered by the Fellows that the Library of the late Dr. Lindley was last year announced for sale, and a proposition was made that the Fellows of the Society should be invited to subscribe for its purchase. The Council, however, having been given to understand that its purchase was contemplated by the Committee of the International Exhibition, thought it needless to bring it before the Fellows. Pending a decision concerning the mode in which so desirable an object was to be attained, the Council decided to advance the money for it, and they have now reason to believe that a portion of the surplus from the International Exhibition will be applied to the formation of a Horticultural Library at South Kensington, commencing with the purchase of the Lindley Collection.

8. In carrying out the scheme for the year's arrangements, the Council have reduced the expenditure wherever it could be done without impeding the effective working of the Society, and an analysis of the accounts put into the hands of the Fellows will show that the strictest economy has been exercised. The expenditure for the maintenance and improvement of Chiswick, and for assistance given by the scientific staff, will hereafter yield its due return in increased produce in the garden and in reputation to the Society, whilst to have stopped the work which is being so ably carried on would have been very injurious to it. For full information on this head Fellows are referred to the annexed report of the Chiswick Board. In speaking of Chiswick Gardens, the Council think it right to call the attention of the Fellows to the fact that Mr. Thompson has now for a period of forty-five years rendered very valuable services to the Society, the greater part of the time as the Superintendent of the fruit and vegetable department. His great age requires that he should now have some rest from his labours, and, pending the adoption of any ulterior measures that may be taken for his advantage, the Council propose to continue to pay him the full amount of his present salary, leaving it to himself to determine what he can best do to assist the Society.

9. The Education scheme for gardeners is working with success. The examinations held this year have resulted in thirteen young men receiving certificates either for horticulture or fruit and vegetable culture. Five of these gardeners are employed at Chiswick, five at the Royal Gardens at Kew, and three were from private establishments. Of those who presented themselves for examination, three had previously obtained certificates or prizes from the Society of Arts, examining on behalf of the Royal Horticultural Society. Two also showed themselves worthy of election as Associates.

10. In their arrangements for the present year the Council have been induced to try the experiment of extending the duration of the First Great Show to four days, and the principal exhibitors have promised their support in making the experiment a success. It is proposed to hold the greater part of the Exhibition in the Great Tent and in some additional canvas-covered spaces. The more delicate plants will be shown in the Conservatory.

11. Relations have been entered into with the Royal Agricultural Society for holding an Autumnal Fruit and Flower Show in the provinces in connection with their annual Agricultural Show, and arrangements have been made with them for a conjoint Exhibition at Bury St. Edmunds in July next. The horticulturists of that place and of the adjoining counties have entered into the scheme with a degree of spirit which indicates that the guarantee from loss stipulated for by the Council as a condition of holding the Show is not likely to be called into requisition. In a very few weeks from the announcement of the Council's intention, the contributions to the guarantee fund amounted to double the sum named as necessary; and, in addition to the prizes offered by this Society, cups &c. to the value of no less than 226*l.* have been offered by Towns, Counties, Flower Societies, and private gentlemen. The Council confidently expect, therefore, that the Show at Bury will not only exercise a beneficial influence on Horticulture, but that it will conduce also to the reputation of the Royal Horticultural Society.

12. It was originally the intention of the Council to publish four numbers of the Journal annually, to be paid for by subscriptions from such Fellows as might wish to receive a copy of the work. The additional subscription did not, however, find sufficient favour with the Fellows to enable the Council to publish the Journal on this footing; and the Council, unwilling to give up a plan which appeared to them to be so important an aid to the objects of the Horticultural Society, have determined to do what is possible towards it by bringing out the numbers of the work at longer intervals, and supplying them at the expense of the Society to the whole of its members.

13. These and other proposed alterations and reductions in the expenses of management will, it is hoped, effect all that is necessary in the way of saving without trenching on the privileges and the pleasures of the Fellows; but the Council desire to impress upon every subscriber the advantage to the cause of Horticulture of inducing his friends to take a warmer interest in the work of the Society, and to enrol themselves amongst its Fellows. No better way of effecting this offers itself than that of bringing them to visit the Tuesday Fruit and Floral Exhibitions of the Society. Under this belief the Council have given to the Fellows the fullest privileges for these Shows, and they have also raised the payment for admission to the Gardens on these occasions, to enhance the advantages which the Fellows' privilege of admitting friends enables them to confer.

14. The Council are taking steps to get the tax removed from tobacco purchased for horticultural purposes, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer has signified to the Council that he is very willing to receive a deputation of the Society on this subject. He will fix an early day for the purpose, and the deputation will be headed by the President of the Society, His Grace the Duke of Buccleuch. It is the intention of the Council to invite the leading Horticulturists of the country to join in it.

REPORT OF THE CHISWICK BOARD TO THE COUNCIL OF THE ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The attention of the Chiswick Board of Directors has, during the past year, been more especially directed towards restoring the Gardens to their former state of efficiency, so that little, comparatively, has been done of a strictly scientific nature. Some successful attempts at Hybridizing however, have been effected, the success of most of which is at present uncertain; one, however, a cross between the Ivy-leaved Pelargonium and some of the best zoned varieties, has been happily accomplished, and it is hoped that out of the numerous seedlings some striking novelties may be produced.

Attempts have also been made towards the cultivation of Truffles and different kinds of Mushrooms. The truffle bed has not yet been disturbed, but a better result than has attended other attempts is scarcely to be hoped for. It was, however, thought right that it should be tried on the best principles; and should it not succeed, they will not be deterred from further attempts. So little at present is known of the growth of truffles in the infant state, that we must be content to work a good deal in the dark. As regards the mushrooms, it cannot be known till next autumn whether any success has been obtained.

A valuable series of observations on Radiation, and other cognate matters, has been made at the suggestion of Mr. Hadwen, which will shortly be published in the Journal.

Great pains have been taken in verifying some of the doubtful plants in the collection.

The Directors feel great pleasure in reporting the great success which has been achieved, as regards making the Gardens a school of Horticulture, by the employment of students in the work of the Garden. The results of the late examination are also very encouraging, and they think it may be advantageous, both to the Society, and to young men entering on the profession of gardening, if the number were extended as opportunities permit.

POMOLOGICAL SECTION.

Fruit Department.—With the view of continuing the experiments in the comparison of the numerous varieties of fruits now in the collection at the garden, and especially in the vast number of vines, the glazed wall was converted a few years ago into an experimental vinery, where all the varieties are trained against the wall on the “single rod” system, by which means no less than 128 varieties have been planted. The last was the first season in which any great number of these vines produced fruit, and many important observations were made which, however, it would be premature at present to announce, until they have been confirmed by the experience of another season. It is believed, from what the Board have seen, that many of these so-called new varieties will prove to be old kinds under new names, some will be found to be entirely worthless, while not a few must become useful and permanent additions to those already in cultivation.

Great confusion exists among the large section of grapes included under the name of Chasselas; and for the purpose of throwing as much light as possible on the subject, plants of all the varieties known to belong to that section have been propagated and grown in pots, and in the ensuing year the whole collection will be fruited, and many points on which much doubt has hitherto prevailed will be cleared up, and this important section of the grapes will be reduced into proper order.

Another very important subject which has engaged the attention of the Board is the collection of figs, of which there are now 74 varieties in the garden. Since the last report was made, the house in which the figs were usually grown has been entirely re-glazed; every alternate sash-bar has been removed from the lights, and the small squares of dirty glass with their numerous overlaps have been supplanted by squares of large dimensions, thereby introducing a flood of light, which is essential to the successful perfecting of the fruit of the fig. Considerable progress has also been made in the identification of old varieties under new names, and in the fruiting of others that have not hitherto been introduced to this country; but, as in the case of all new fruits, great caution is required in coming to any conclusions on the subject, and, therefore, before any report is made, the Board consider it judicious to repeat their observations another season, when, judging from the promising appearance of the trees, they expect to derive greater facilities for coming to a satisfactory conclusion than have hitherto been afforded.

For the last few seasons repeated attempts have been made to investigate the collection of strawberries, but without effect; the plantation which existed in the garden having, in common with others throughout the country, suffered from the successive effects of late spring frosts and summer droughts, it became necessary to form an entirely new collection, including in it all the varieties that were known to exist either in this country or the continent. Through the liberality which always characterises the nursery trade in its relations to the Society, the directors have the pleasure to report that the new plantation, which has been formed on a newly-prepared piece of ground, now includes no less than 286 varieties; and it is hoped that in the year 1868, should no untoward event arise, a rare opportunity will be afforded to the Fellows of the Society and those interested in the subject to study this extensive collection.

It has been found that the old collection of apples on paradise stocks which occupies the borders of the orchard and kitchen garden, and which is coeval with the existence of the garden, is rapidly falling into decay, and although by certain treatment the trees might be renovated and rendered healthy and fruitful, the expense and labour that would be incurred in arriving at this result are so great that steps are being taken to gradually remove these old trees and to form a new collection with others of a younger and more healthy growth. Another and perhaps the greatest objection to the continuance of these trees is the fact that most of them are grafted with several distinct varieties, which in many instances have been doubleworked, and the evil results that arise from this circumstance, where so many applications for grafts are furnished to the Fellows from these trees, are in themselves sufficient to justify the course which the Board propose to carry out. Every care has been taken to preserve the full collection, and, in anticipation of the destruction of the old trees, scions have been taken from them and worked upon stocks which have now grown into handsome young trees ready to take the place of their predecessors.

During the past season the plum and cherry crops have been an entire failure, and for all practical purposes have been productive of no useful result. The great uncertainty there is in securing a crop of cherries, whether from the damage done to the bloom by late spring frosts, or by birds when a crop has been obtained, has induced the Board to institute a course of experimental examinations by growing the trees in pots and cultivating them under protection. This appears to be the only alternative where a large collection has to be dealt with, and where it is impossible to protect every individual tree when out of doors. The Board, therefore, propose in future to grow all new varieties that may be received in pots, and to add to them when young trees can be obtained all the old varieties in the garden, so that future experiments may be carried out with some reasonable prospect of success.

Every opportunity is taken of securing the novelties which are announced, and it is the object of the directors to render the collection of fruits in the Chiswick Garden as complete as it is possible to be, so that it may become a centre of reference upon all subjects relating to fruits and to fruit tree culture. It is with much pleasure that they have to record the great liberality of the Rev. John Huyshe, of Clysthydon, near Exeter, who has been the successful originator of several valuable varieties of pear bearing his name. Among these varieties was one of unusual size and excellence, which has been named Huyshe's Prince Consort, and the entire stock of that variety Mr. Huyshe has placed at the disposal of the Society. Upwards of 100 young trees have been propagated of it in the garden, and these, along with 200 or 300 scions sent by Mr. Huyshe, have been distributed in the first ballot of this year.

It is gratifying to see the unabated interest which the nursery trade and others connected with the pursuit of horticulture in the country manifest in the maintenance and success of the operations at the garden, as exemplified in the liberal donations of any novelties they may possess, and the desire that the Society should have an opportunity of comparing, examining, and proving the various subjects of horticultural interest. It is also an encouraging sign, and an evidence of the important services the Society can render to horticulture, to find so many applications from so many of the professional as well as amateur Fellows of the Society for scions and seeds of fruit and ornamental trees, either for the augmentation of their collections or for the careful preservation of the nomenclature of the subjects of which these collections are composed.

VEGETABLE DEPARTMENT.—In the vegetable department the experiments in proving the varieties of new vegetables and comparing them with the old have been continued. In the past season the Board resolved to investigate the varieties of garden peas, and with this view obtained, through the liberality of the nursery and seed trade, the seeds of considerably upwards of 100 sorts, all of which were sown on ground skilfully and carefully prepared. Unfortunately, however, the ravages of slugs and of other predatory insects, which resisted every means adopted to exterminate them, were such as to entirely destroy the whole crop, and this having occurred a second time with a crop sown after the destruction of the first, the desired result was not obtained. The attempt will be made again this season, when it is hoped that better fortune will attend our labours.

The crops of which successful examinations have been made are onions, beet, and celery, and of these the reports will be published in the journal of the Society in due course.

FLORAL SECTION.

As regards the Floral Department, while the supply of Bedding plants for South Kensington, as well as of Flowering and other Ornamental plants for the decoration of the conservatory, has been maintained, other plants of interest have from time to time, so far as the glass accommodation has permitted, been sent from Chiswick to the Tuesday meetings and Saturday Promenades. A new lean-to house has now been erected, and a second house is in course of removal from Kensington, for the purpose of more fully carrying out this latter object. These additions, and some modifications with respect to the older erections, will not only much facilitate the keeping up of these several supplies, but will also give, to some extent, the increased facilities that were necessary for experimental cultivation, and for supplying plants for the ballot distributions.

The cultivation of New Flowers for examination by the Floral Committee has been carried on as usual. In the course of the season, the trial beds have not only proved attractive to those who visited the Garden, but have afforded valuable information, to many persons who sought it, as to the habits, qualities, and colours of the different plants. To the trial beds of former years was added, during the past year, a series of beds for the growth of examples of the now fashionable group of Sub-tropical Plants so much used for summer garden decoration, and a very interesting collection of these was brought together. The thanks of the Fellows are due to those gentlemen who were good enough to contribute these various subjects, intended either for experimental culture or for purposes of public reference.

A considerable space of ground, which had been previously prepared for the purpose, was during the past season planted with a choice collection of Conifers presented to the Society by Messrs. Veitch & Sons, Messrs. Waterer & Godfrey, Messrs. Lee, Messrs. Osborn & Sons, Mr. Dancer, Mr. Standish, and Mr. W. Paul. When established, these will afford useful information to those gentlemen who may wish to make selections for ornamental planting. A collection of Roses was also contributed by Mr. W. Paul, Mr. C. Turner, Messrs. Rivers & Son, and Messrs. Wood & Son.

It is yet too early to ascertain the amount of damage occasioned by the excessive cold to which the Chiswick Garden was exposed during the frosts of January 1867, but it is to be feared that half-hardy subjects will have suffered severely.

The Rev. Geo. Cheere moved that the Report be adopted.

Mr. Harry Chester and Mr. Edgar A. Bowring then made some observations on the arrangements entered into by the Society and the International Horticultural Exhibition Committee during the past year.

The Secretary read and explained the correspondence that had taken place between the Council of the Royal Horticultural Society and the International Committee. After some further discussion, Colonel Challoner seconded the adoption of the Report, which was carried unanimously.

The Chairman informed the meeting that the scrutineers had reported the unanimous election of the Members of the Council and Officers for the ensuing year, as follows:—

The retiring Members of the Council were Mr. W. Wilson Saunders, Sir Arthur Buller, and the Rt. Hon. W. Cowper, M.P.; in their room were elected Lt.-Gen. the Hon. C. Grey, Major Trevor Clarke, and Mr. Wentworth W. Buller.

The following were elected Officers:—His Grace the Duke of Buccleuch, as President; Mr. Geo. F. Wilson, F.R.S., as Treasurer; and Lieut.-Col. Scott, R.E., as Secretary.

The Expenses Committee were Mr. Geo. F. Wilson, Lieut.-Col. Scott, R.E., and Mr. Henry Cole, C.B.

The Auditors were Mr. James Nicholson, Mr. John Gibson, and Mr. Robert Hudson.

On the motion of Mr. Edgar A. Bowring, seconded by Mr. Harry Chester, the thanks of the meeting were unanimously voted to His Grace the President for his conduct in the chair, and the meeting separated.

Obituary, 1866.

The Society has to record the loss by death last year of the undermentioned Fellows:—

ROBERT VERSCHOYLE, Esq., of 116 Eaton Square, S.W., aged 73.

EDWARD HAYNES, Esq., of 24 South Molton Street, Oxford Street, W.

JOHN LOVEDAY, Esq., of Williamscoth, Banbury, Oxfordshire.

J. FERGUS, Esq., of 1 Queen's Gate Gardens, Hyde Park, W.

Miss I. C. THOMSON, of Ellerslie Lodge, Campden Hill, W.

General HIGGINSON, of 9 Wilton Crescent, Belgrave Square, S.W.

23rd February.—Mr. ROBERT OSBORN, of The Nursery, King's Road, Fulham, aged 84. He first suggested to the late Mr. Loudon the want of a book of instruction for young gardeners, and assisted in the compilation of a small work called "The Young Gardener's Assistant." Born in the North Riding of Yorkshire, he was employed some time in the gardens of Aske Hall, near Richmond, in the same county. Coming to London, still very young, he was received into the nursery of the Messrs. Gray, at Brompton; but was shortly introduced as gardener to the late John Penn, Esq., of Stoke Park, near Windsor—a gentleman of exquisite taste, and then remodelling his grounds—to whom Mr. Osborn proved a most valuable assistant. Paying much attention to landscape gardening—being a good draughtsman, well acquainted with mathematics and mechanics, and having a thorough knowledge of land-surveying, with other requisites for a first-class steward—he was soon promoted to that office, and retained it to the time of his patron's death. Having been some years a sleeping partner in a nursery establishment, he, on the death of Mr. Penn, decided upon making it his business, and removed to Fulham, joining the old firm of Whitley, Brames & Milne, the two latter partners retiring. He, however, still retained the agency to the Penn family up to the time of his decease; and he had been more than thirty years Steward of the Manor of Eton. He became a member of the Horticultural Society in 1834, and although he never appeared prominently before the public as a cultivator or botanist, he had a good general knowledge of his profession; and the manner in which he conducted his business invariably ensured him the confidence and esteem of all who had any connection with him.

3rd March.—Mr. FRANCIS DICKSON, of 106 East Gate Street, Chester, aged 73. An intimate friend of Loudon's, and was much consulted by him in many of his works, and quoted by him also. Was an earnest enthusiast in his profession (nurseryman), and brought together at one time perhaps the finest collection of hardy trees and plants in the kingdom—more particularly rare herbaceous and Alpine plants, his collection of which was considered unique. Delighted in cultivating plants the most difficult and critical of management, by studying their natural habitats and their peculiarities; also coniferæ, of which he had a very fine collection, in addition to the above. Was born in Edinburgh, and was the youngest son of—Dickson, who established the celebrated nurseries there bearing his name. Came to Chester in 1719, and established the well-known nurseries there. Was much and universally respected. A man of sterling integrity, kind and genial disposition, delighted in the society of men who loved their profession, and was considered by those best able to judge to be about the cleverest nurseryman of his day.

4th March.—The Earl of BEAUCHAMP, of 19 Grosvenor Place, S.W., and Madresfield Court, Great Malvern.

2nd April.—WILLIAM SNELL, Esq., of 100 Belgrave Road, Pimlico, S.W., aged 79.

2nd May.—SIMEON WARNER, Esq., of 18 Brunswick Square, Brighton, aged 81.

5th May.—Lieut.-Gen. RAWDON, of 34 Prince's Gate, Hyde Park, W., aged 63.

5th May.—WILLIAM HENRY HARVEY, M.D., F.R.S. (Hon. Member). Born at Summerville, near Limerick, on the 5th February 1811; Professor of Botany and Curator of the Herbarium to the University of Dublin, Professor of Botany to the Museum of Irish Industry, Member of the Royal Irish Academy, Member of the Royal Dublin Society, Honorary Member of the Horticultural Society and of several foreign scientific associations. The following are the literary works which he has published, or with which he was connected:—"Phycologia Britannica," "The Manual of British Algæ," "Nereis Australis," "The Seaside Book," "Phycologia Australica," "Flora Capensis," "Nereis Boreale Americana," "Index Generum Algorum;" numerous contributions to "Hooker's Journal of Botany," the Linnean Society, Royal Irish Academy, Dublin Natural History Society, and other scientific societies. As Professor of Botany to the University of Dublin he took much interest in its botanic garden; and, filling a like office to the Royal Dublin Society, he took much interest also in the fine botanic gardens belonging to this society. Though an ardent inquirer in the general field of botany, his speciality was in the study and illustration of marine botany, and as an algologist he had no superior. From an early period of life he was an enthusiastic student in natural history, but especially in the botanical department. In its pursuit he made a voyage round the world. He also visited the United States of America and Canada, and three times visited the Cape of Good Hope, where he spent several years. In his tour round the globe he visited Ceylon, the various colonies in Australia, Van Diemen's Land, New Zealand, the islands in the South Pacific Ocean, Chili, and home to Europe by the Isthmus of Panama.

29th May.—JONATHAN CLARK, Esq., of The Mall, Chiswick, W., aged 76; for many years one of the auditors of this society.

31st May.—GEORGE JOHN WARREN, fifth Baron VERNON, of Kinderton, aged 62. Seat, Sudbury Hall, Derby. Corresponding Member of the Society della Crusca. He published the four first editions of Dante in parallel columns, and was engaged for many years in the preparation of an illustrated and paraphrased edition of the works of Dante, which will shortly be published. His garden is extensive, and was originally laid out by Gilpin in 1837, at which date many varieties of coniferous and evergreen trees and shrubs were planted, and amongst others he introduced the Berberis, which has now become so general. Before selling the property he possessed in that town, he gave, in 1850, a public park to the people of Stockport, which town adjoins his colliery property in Cheshire. He was an enthusiast about rifle shooting. Many years before that subject occupied the attention of the British public, he contended annually at the various Tirs in Switzerland—on one occasion winning the first prize at the Tir National, and on another occasion the second. On the establishment of the Volunteer force in this country he was one of its warmest and earliest supporters, and erected in his park at Sudbury a butt with twelve targets, on the Swiss principle, with the view of proving, as he did conclusively, that that system ensured greater rapidity of firing, greater accuracy of marking, and greater safety than any other which is followed in this country.

2nd June.—MATTHEW CLARK, Esq., of 26 Pembridge Square, Hyde Park, W., aged 81.

3rd June.—J. D. MULLENS, Esq., of 16 Cambridge Square, Hyde Park, W.

7th June.—THOMAS DELARUE, Esq., of 84 Westbourne Terrace, Hyde Park, W., aged 74.

8th June.—HENRY WILSON, Esq., of Stowlangtoft Hall, Bury St. Edmunds, aged 68, Deputy-Lieutenant for Suffolk, and J.P. for Suffolk and Middlesex.

14th June.—HENRY PEARSE, Esq., of 32 Queen's Gate Terrace, W., aged 64.

21st June.—Colonel HUGH BAILLIE, of 65 Rutland Gate, S.W., aged 90.

23rd June.—Mrs. BEVIS E. GREEN, of 5 Kensington Palace Gardens, W.

26th June.—RICHARD GARRETT, Esq., of Carlton Hall, Saxmundham, Suffolk, aged 60. Among the public movements which first enlisted Mr. Garrett's interest was the Royal Agricultural Society of England. In its earliest days he was one of the first exhibitors at its annual meetings, and afterwards he was elected, for many years in succession, one of the members of the Council, and none took a more active part in its useful operations. The Smithfield Club also found him a most earnest supporter, and he was among the first who promoted and supported its exhibition of agricultural machinery. When its increasing popularity and success required a more commodious building, he with others projected the Agricultural Hall in Islington, and shared the general exultation at the rise of a building which is not more remarkable for its adaptation for an immense gathering of men and things, than as an instance of a new and large scale of utilitarian architecture.

27th June.—Alderman Sir HENRY MUGGERIDGE, of St. Andrew's Hill, E.C., aged 51.

30th June.—FREDERICK PHILIPS, Esq., of Rhual, Mold, Flintshire.

1st July.—WILLIAM COCK, Esq., of Chiswick, W., aged 63. He was the first contributor of collections of Pelargoniums that were shown at the Horticultural Society's exhibitions at Chiswick, and for many years the most successful grower. He was also an early exhibitor of Balsams and Coxcombs, and of these he was a successful cultivator; in fact, Balsams have not, since he ceased to grow them, been seen so large and fine as he showed them. He was a true lover of gardening and flowers, and his great aim was to grow them better than anyone else, and in this he was eminently successful.

5th July.—HENRY PETTY FITZMAURICE, Marquis of LANSDOWNE, of Berkeley Square, W.; and Bowood, Calne, Wilts, aged 50. He patronised gardening generally, and his garden contains a good collection of Conifers. His grounds are noted for fine specimens of rare trees planted (1770—1780) by the first Marquis. The short time which he held the family estates did not allow of his indulging much in gardening; but, had he lived, he would undoubtedly have done much to encourage a taste for the old French style of gardening (La Notre's)—of which he was a great admirer, and about which he possessed great taste and judgment—as well as of the Italian style, as exhibited in the old gardens near and around Rome. In this department of art his judgment and taste were certainly unique.

7th July.—The Earl of LANESBOROUGH, of 8 Great Stanhope Street, May Fair, W.; Lanesborough Lodge, Belturbet, Co. Cavan; and Swithland Hall, Loughborough, aged 72.

14th July.—DAVID PRESTON, Esq., M.D., of The Grange, Michael's Grove, Brompton, S.W., aged 78.

16th July.—THOMAS L. LEARMONTH, Esq., of The Albany, Piccadilly, W., aged 67.

17th July.—JOHN DOBIE, Esq., R.N., of Marlborough Chambers, Pall Mall, S.W., aged 69.

25th August.—The Earl of CRAVEN, of 16 Charles Street, Berkeley Square, S.W.; Coombe Abbey, near Coventry; Hainstead and Ashdown Parks, Berks.

3rd September.—JOHN ASHBURY, Esq., of 9 Sussex Place, Hyde Park, W., aged 61, Associate of Institution of Civil Engineers, Member of Institution of Mechanical Engineers, and Member of the Society of Arts. He was founder of the largest establishment in Europe for the manufacture of railway rolling stock—and the first manufacturing works of any note formed into a company under the Limited Companies' Act. Mr. Ashbury, however, retained a large stake in it, and was Chairman and Managing Director at the time of his death.

3rd September.—JOHN JACKSON BLANDY, Esq., of Highgrove, Reading, aged 72. Mr. Blandy's name was long known in connection with the Royal Horticultural Society. He was for many years a prominent member of the Council, and was also a Vice-President of the Society till within a few months of his death, when he retired by rotation from the Council as being the oldest member. He exhibited at the usual great London Shows and at the principal Horticultural Shows within a radius of forty miles of Reading. He kept up his own gardens and grounds in the best style. The Rhododendron Blandianum (named after the deceased gentleman) bloomed first at Highgrove about 15 years ago. Orchids were his favourites; but he grew and exhibited general collections of plants. He grew the choicest and best sorts of fruit, such as grapes, peaches, pears, &c., to a large extent. He had a very select collection of American plants. In 1866 he was Deputy Chairman of the Executive Committee for the International Horticultural Exhibition.

18th September.—CHARLES DORRIEN, Esq., of Ashdean, Funtington, Chichester.

19th September.—S. R. SOLLY, Esq., M.A., F.R.S., of 10 Manchester Square, W.; and Serge Hill, Bedmont, Hemel Hempstead.

Attention has been called on p. xcvi. to the arrangement made with Mr. Eyles, by which Fellows of the Royal Horticultural Society, as well as the Public, can avail themselves of that officer's advice upon all matters connected with gardening, arranging conservatories, laying-out new or improving existing gardens.

Mr. Eyles was engaged, under the late Sir Joseph Paxton, at Chatsworth and Sydenham, for twelve years, and carried out all the garden arrangements of the interior of the Crystal Palace under his direction; and he was subsequently entrusted with the laying-out of the new Gardens of the Royal Horticultural Society at South Kensington, from plans prepared by Mr. Nesfield.

SCHEDULES FOR THE SPRING AND SUMMER EXHIBITIONS,

TO BE HELD AT THE GARDENS, SOUTH KENSINGTON, W., 1867.

REGULATIONS FOR THE SPRING AND SUMMER EXHIBITIONS.

I. The prizes offered in the accompanying Schedules are open to all competitors complying with these rules.

II. Exhibitors must give at least five clear days' notice in writing of the Class or Classes in which they intend to compete, and of the average diameter of the plants to be exhibited.

This is to be done by filling up and forwarding to the Superintendent at South Kensington the printed forms provided for the purpose.

III. Cards corresponding with the entries will be furnished on the morning of the Exhibition at the entrance to the Garden.

Exhibitors will be responsible for the proper placing of these cards, and they are requested to satisfy themselves that the cards correctly describe the objects exhibited.

The Society cannot correct, or be responsible for, mistakes arising from the non-observance of this or any other rule.

IV. No specimens will be received after half-past 8 o'clock on the morning of the Exhibition.

The Superintendent has instructions to refuse all exhibitions which he considers unworthy of being shown.

V. Officers of the Society will direct the placing of all specimens.

It is necessary that all flowers or plants be carefully labelled with their scientific names, and, where practicable, with the name of the country whence introduced. Florists' flowers must bear their customary names.

VI. Only bonâ fide exhibitors, and such assistants as may be absolutely required for the arrangement of their specimens, will be admitted before the doors are closed at half-past 8 a.m.; after this hour no person will be allowed to enter, and all persons must retire before 10 A.M., except such as may be officially retained by the Society.

VII. A clear passage-way to the stands and tables must be preserved during the hours of arrangement, and all persons obstructing it will be subject to immediate removal from the Garden.

The Judges will proceed to make their awards at 10 A.M., before which hour the exhibitors' arrangements must be completed.

VIII. One prize only can be awarded to any exhibitor in any class, except in the Miscellaneous Class, and in the case of Certificates granted to New Plants and Seedlings.

The Judges have the right of withholding the prize where specimens may be considered unworthy of it, in order to prevent an inferior collection obtaining an award.

The Judges will be at liberty to add to the number of prizes specified, in cases of very decided merit, so long as they do not exceed the total amount offered in each class.

IX. All specimens must be the bonâ fide property of the exhibitor or his master, or they will not be eligible to compete for the prizes. At least one month's previous possession will be considered requisite to constitute ownership, except in well-ascertained cases of plants newly imported.

X. The decision of the Judges is final. Any prize fraudulently obtained will be forfeited, and will be awarded to the competitor immediately succeeding in the same class; and the exhibitor proved, before a Committee of Exhibitors named by the Council, to have acted fraudulently, will be excluded from future Shows.

Seedling Flowers exhibited as novelties must be named.

XI. For the two Spring Exhibitions, exhibitors' pass-tickets will be furnished as follows:—

For collections of 9 plants and upwards, 2 passes for 1st collection, and 1 for each additional collection.

For collections of 6 plants and upwards, 1 pass for 1st collection, and 1 for each additional collection.

But no exhibitor can have more than 4 passes.

For the Summer Exhibitions, including the Special Show:—

Classes containing 9 plants and upwards; for 1st collection, 3 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

Classes containing 6 plants and upwards; for 1st collection, 2 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

No ticket will be given for a single Specimen Plant.

No exhibitor can take more than 8 passes.

Breakfast tickets will be issued in equal numbers with the passes for the Exhibition to be held on June the 4th, for the first day only.

XII. The Exhibitions on the 19th of March and the 16th of April will close at 5 and 6 o'clock respectively; all the other Exhibitions will close at 6.30 P.M.; after which all specimens will be given up to their owners, or to such persons as may be authorised to receive them.

The Council will not be responsible for damage done to plants during or after the Exhibition, but all ordinary care will be taken of them.

For competition Fruits, the form No. 2, accompanying this Schedule (see p. cxxx.), showing the conditions under which the Fruits were produced, must be filled up as far as possible. A sufficient sample must be sent for tasting, and to admit of a correct description being drawn up.

3. When the merits of any article produced by a member of the Committee shall be under discussion, such member shall be required to withdraw until the Committee shall have made its decision.

4. When any New Fruit brought before the Committee for an opinion proves to be meritorious, the exhibitor shall be requested to fill up for its information the Form No. 1.

5. First-class Certificates will be granted to very superior seedling productions, recently introduced, or very rare fruits or vegetables.

6. Special Certificates will be awarded for subjects evincing meritorious cultivation, but which are not exhibited as novelties.

7. All Fruits or Vegetables sent to the Garden for trial shall be submitted for the opinion of the Committee; and no official opinion on the qualities of such fruits or vegetables shall be given by any paid officer of the Society.

8. For the purpose of collecting information as to what kinds of Fruits are best adapted for cultivation under the different conditions of soil, climate, exposure, &c., which occur in different parts of the country, the Committee will, from time to time, invite fruit growers to submit to it, on such of its meeting days as may be selected for the purpose, certain specified kinds of fruits, or collections from particular counties, accompanied by particular information respecting them, for which Form No. 2, obtainable on application to the Secretary of the Committee, at the Garden, Chiswick, will be provided; or the exhibitor may prepare his own schedule in the specified form.

9. The Committee (or a Sub-Committee deputed for the purpose with a view to facilitate the business of the meeting) is to examine and report on the qualities of each sample, recording its opinion in the second or lower table of Form No. 2. These objects the Committee will carry out by holding meetings at South Kensington, on the dates mentioned in page 9, for the examination of such New Flowers and Plants as may be there submitted to it; by holding meetings at Chiswick as required; and by reporting its transactions for publication in the Journal or Proceedings of the Society.

REGULATIONS.

1. All persons, whether Fellows of the Society or not, are invited to exhibit at the Floral Meetings, and to contribute to the formation of the Collections at Chiswick.

2. The subjects for the consideration of the Committee are to be delivered at the Council Room, South Kensington, not later than 10.30 A.M., so as to be entered in the books before 11 o'clock.

3. The necessary particulars respecting each subject exhibited are to be communicated in writing to the Secretary of the Committee.

NOTE.—The name and post address of the Exhibitor ; the name of the flower, if a seedling, and that of the native country if an importation, will be considered necessary particulars. Exhibitors are invited to communicate in writing such further details of the origin and introduction or peculiarities of their flowers as they may think interesting for publication. If these are legibly written on cards sent with the plants, it will greatly add to the interest which will be felt in such exhibition, by the Fellows who attend to inspect the plants at the conclusion of the Floral meeting.

4. The merits of the subjects exhibited shall not be discussed or decided on in the presence of the owners, or of persons interested in them.

5. Sufficient examples of every subject exhibited to enable the Committee to form a fair opinion of its qualities must be produced. In all practicable cases, the growing plant will be required. Each kind will have to be separately entered.

NOTE.—Exhibitors of seedling florists' flowers, and others, will facilitate the working of the Committee by the production of specimens and collections of known varieties to serve as references, and for comparison with novelties.

To save expenses of carriage, and to facilitate exhibitions by amateur growers, cut specimens, if sufficiently ample, will be admissible in cases where the habit of the plant is well known, as, for example, in many newly-imported varieties of cultivated species of Orchids.

6. ALL SEEDLING FLOWERS MUST BE NAMED, as a means of future recognition ; if not named, they will be passed over.

7. Newly imported, or other new species of plants, not florists' varieties, will have to be submitted to the Botanical Director, that they may be correctly named.

NOTE.—Exhibitors of this class of plants will greatly facilitate the operations of the Committee by forwarding, whenever practicable, previous to the days of meeting, materials for examination, and it will be regarded as an indispensable condition of their being examined, that the countries from which they may have been imported shall be correctly stated. These materials are to be sent to the Society's offices, addressed to "The Botanical Director."

8. The Committee will exercise the power of examining with the necessary minuteness all subjects submitted for its opinion.

9. FIRST-CLASS, SECOND-CLASS, AND SPECIAL CERTIFICATES AND COMMENDATION will be awarded, at the discretion of the majority of the members present, to such of the novelties exhibited as may be thought sufficiently deserving.

10. Medals will be awarded by the Council for subjects recommended by the Committee as evincing meritorious cultivation, but which are not exhibited as novelties.

11. All packages of plants or flowers must be delivered Carriage Free, and must be forwarded at the risk of the sender.

12. No award will be made to yearling seedlings of Cinerarias or Pelargoniums, nor will any judicial opinion be passed upon their merits ; but they may be staged for inspection.

13. If the subjects, whether plants or cut flowers, are left for the night, it will be at the risk of the senders, but all ordinary care will be used to protect them from injury.

14. All plants or flowers sent to the Garden for trial shall be submitted for the opinion of the Committee ; and no official opinion on the merits of such plants or flowers shall be given by any paid officer of the Society.

SCHEDULES FOR THE GRAND SUMMER EXHIBITION TO BE HELD AT BURY ST. EDMUNDS, 16TH TO 19TH JULY 1867.

N.B.—The tents will be ready for the reception of plants on Monday, July 15th, and it is hoped that all who can will bring them in on that day.

REGULATIONS FOR THE EXHIBITION.

I. The prizes offered in the accompanying Schedule are open to all competitors complying with these Rules.

II. Exhibitors must give at least fourteen clear days' notice in writing of the class or classes in which they intend to compete, and of the average diameter of the plants to be exhibited.

This is to be done by filling up and forwarding to the Superintendent at South Kensington the printed forms provided for the purpose.

III. Cards corresponding with the entries will be furnished on the morning of the Exhibition at the entrance to the Tents.

Exhibitors will be responsible for the proper placing of these cards, and they are requested to satisfy themselves that the cards correctly describe the objects exhibited.

The Society cannot correct, or be responsible for, mistakes arising from the non-observance of this or any other Rule.

IV. No specimens will be received after half-past eight o'clock on the morning of the Exhibition.

The Superintendent has instructions to refuse all exhibitions which he considers unworthy of being shown.

V. Officers of the Society will direct the placing of all specimens.

It is necessary that all flowers or plants be carefully labelled with their scientific names, and, where practicable, with the name of the country whence introduced. Florists' flowers and fruits must bear their customary names.

VI. Only bonâ fide exhibitors, and such assistants as may be absolutely required for the arrangement of their specimens, will be admitted before the doors are closed at half-past eight a.m.; after this hour no person will be allowed to enter, and all persons must retire before ten a.m., except such as may be officially retained by the Society.

VII. A clear passage-way to the stands and tables must be preserved during the hours of arrangement, and all persons obstructing it will be subject to immediate removal from the Tents.

The Judges will proceed to make their awards at 10 a.m., before which hour the exhibitors' arrangements must be completed.

VIII. One prize only can be awarded to any exhibitor in any class, except those for Miscellaneous Subjects and New Plants.

The Judges have the right of withholding the prize where specimens may be considered unworthy of it, in order to prevent an inferior collection obtaining an award.

The Judges will be at liberty to add to the number of prizes specified, in cases of very decided merit, so long as they do not exceed the total amount offered in each class.

IX. All specimens must be the bonâ fide property of the exhibitor or his master, or they will not be eligible to compete for the prizes. At least one month's previous possession will be considered requisite to constitute ownership, except in well-ascertained cases of plants newly imported.

X. The decision of the Judges is final. Any prize fraudulently obtained will be forfeited, and will be awarded to the prize-holder immediately succeeding in the class.

Seedling Flowers exhibited as novelties must be named.

XI. Exhibitors' pass-tickets will be furnished as follows:—

Classes containing 9 plants and upwards; for first collection, 3 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

Classes containing 6 plants and upwards; for first collection, 2 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

N.B.—In classes where the plants are small, the numbers of tickets given will be reduced, and no ticket will be given for a single Specimen Plant, or a single dish of Fruit.

No exhibitor can take more than 6 passes.

Breakfast Tickets will be issued in equal numbers with the passes.

XII. The Exhibition will close at five o'clock on the 19th July, after which time all specimens will be given up to their owners, or to such persons as may be authorized to receive them.

The Council will not be responsible for damage done to plants during the Exhibition, but all ordinary care will be taken of them.

4th December.—THOMAS WATSON, Esq., of 11 Grenville Place, Brighton, aged 80.

7th December.—Commander JOHN LECHMERE, R.N., of Steeple Aston, Oxford.

10th December.—JAMES HENRY DAVIES, Esq., of 5 Hinde Street, Manchester Square.

13th December.—R. C. BOWDEN, Esq., of Clapham Common, S., aged 68.

15th December.—W. POTTS, Jun., Esq., of West Street, Banbury, aged 41.

25th December.—R. C. ROOSMALE COCQ, Esq., of 75 Inverness Terrace, W., aged 39.

31st December.—CHARLES BATHOE, Esq., of 28 York Place, Portman Square, W., aged 57. Served 28 years in the Bengal Civil Service. Member, while in India, of the Calcutta Asiatic and Horticultural Societies; in England, of the Asiatic, Geographical, and Zoological.

3rd January.—ROBERT LEMON, Esq., F.S.A., of 10 Ovington Square, Brompton, S.W., aged 67, Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries, Honorary Member of the New York Historical Society, Honorary Member of the Georgia Historical Society, &c. He served for 47 years in the State Paper Office, attaining the post of Assistant-Keeper. After several premonitory symptoms of paralysis, he was induced to resign, and retired from public service January 1866: since which event his health and strength, both mentally and physically, rapidly declined.

9th January.—G. URE SKINNER, Esq., F.L.S., F.Z.S., &c., aged 62, at Aspinwall, in the Isthmus of Panama; of yellow fever, caught on board the R.M.S. Danube. He was on his way to the scene of his labours and adventures and botanical researches of 37 years, for the last time, in high health and spirits. His kind and generous nature took him on board the Danube (ten days and more after he had safely left that ill-fated ship), to inquire after the health of the captain. The taint of the fatal fever set upon him; he died the third day. If he had lived to return to England, he would have accomplished his 40th voyage across the Atlantic Ocean!

THOMPSON TESTIMONIAL.

As stated in the January number of the Proceedings, the Council have appointed a Committee for the purpose of raising a substantial Testimonial to Mr. Thompson, whose labours for the advancement of Horticulture and Meteorology during his services to the Society, extending over 45 years; are well known. ANNIVERSARY OF THE LATE PRINCE CONSORT'S BIRTHDAY.

On the 26th August last, being the anniversary of the late Prince Consort's birthday, the Gardens were opened free to the public, and upwards of 104,599 persons passed in at the various entrances during the day. The bands of the A, H, and G Divisions of Police gave their gratuitous services.

GARDEN SUPERINTENDENT.

The Council of the Royal Horticultural Society have to announce that they have arranged with the Garden Superintendent, Mr. Geo. Eyles, that he should give to Fellows of the Society his advice and assistance in the laying out and management of their gardens, at the rate of one guinea per visit, with travelling expenses.

BALLOT FOR PLANTS.

A Ballot for Plants will take place on Tuesday, 18th February, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. 4-Guinea Fellows, or 40-Guinea Life Members, are entitled to name 8 lots; 2-Guinea Fellows, or 20-Guinea Life Members, to name 4 lots. It will be sufficient if Fellows will make a mark opposite the numbers of the lots they select, and return their lists, with their names and addresses written thereon, to the Assistant-Secretary, at the Offices of the Society, South Kensington, W., on or before Tuesday, the 11th February. After that date no applications can be attended to. The result of the ballot will be communicated in the "Proceedings," and the plants which the Fellows may obtain by it, as well as those at the future ballots, will be forwarded all together at the close of the season, unless Fellows intimate their wish to have them sooner, and in that case they are requested to notify how they wish them sent. The list of plants is enclosed with this number of the "Proceedings." N.B.—The result of the ballot on 30th July last is also published with this No. of the "Proceedings."

ANNUAL DISTRIBUTION OF SEEDS.

The usual packets may be obtained by application at the Offices in the Exhibition Road, from 20th February to 25th March. If required to be sent by post, 4 penny postage stamps should be enclosed with the application.

TESTIMONIAL TO MR. ROBERT THOMPSON,

OF THE ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S GARDENS, CHISWICK.

The retirement of Mr. Robert Thompson from active duty in the service of the Royal Horticultural Society has been thought, by his numerous friends, to offer a fitting occasion on which to present him with a substantial Testimonial, expressive of their cordial sympathy with him in his declining years and indicating also their high appreciation of the many services which he has rendered to Pomology and Meteorology during a long and active life.

The Council of the Royal Horticultural Society, acting as the exponents of the wishes which have been expressed, that Mr. Thompson's services should be publicly recognised in this way, have taken the initiative, by inviting several gentlemen connected with horticulture to attend a preliminary meeting, at which a committee was named, to carry out the proposed object.

The many services rendered by Mr. Thompson, both to Horticultural and Meteorological Science, are well known to those who are actively engaged in these pursuits, but it may be proper, on such an occasion as the present, to briefly recapitulate them. For upwards of forty years, then, he has held a prominent position in the working staff of the Royal Horticultural Society. He entered the Society's service in 1824, the second year after the establishment of the garden at Chiswick, and in 1826 was appointed to the charge of the Fruit Department, which then contained the finest and most extensive collection of fruits in Europe. At that time comparatively few of the varieties were known in this country, and the whole nomenclature was in a state of confusion, requiring unwearied application and perseverance to clear it up, so that the riches of the collection might be made available to the Fellows of the Society and to the country. In 1831 a descriptive catalogue of these fruits was published, from memoranda taken at Chiswick; and in this valuable work Mr. Thompson, with great success, succeeded in carrying out his design of indicating the good and the bad sorts, together with their synonyms, and such brief characteristics as it was thought would be most generally useful. By means of this catalogue a knowledge of the superior kinds of fruit was much more rapidly spread throughout the country than it could have been by any other available means. The distribution of scions of new fruits was consequently carried on with assiduity, much consideration being bestowed in endeavouring to select such kinds as were most likely to succeed in the localities for which they were destined.

While this important work was year after year being carried out, Mr. Thompson was engaged in making experiments both in the Fruit and Kitchen Garden departments, carefully reporting the results; in taking descriptions of new varieties of fruits as they came into bearing; and in preparing another edition of the Fruit Catalogue, which was published in 1842, and a Supplement in 1853. These descriptions and records have been of the greatest practical utility. Upwards of 2,000 pages of the Society's various publications have been written by Mr. Thompson, but the Fruit Catalogue claims prominence, as having been the standard of fruit nomenclature in this country; while his "Gardeners' Assistant," a work not connected with the Society, may be characterised as the best and most scientific of compendious treatises on modern gardening.

For a nearly similar period Mr. Thompson has devoted much attention to meteorology. The "Meteorological Journal" of the Society, which was commenced in 1826, and which has been carried on by him since 1830, gives the readings of the barometer (corrected for temperature, &c. morning, noon, and night), of the thermometer, maximum and minimum, in sun and shade, and of the hygrometer; comparatively with averages of forty years deduced from 219,000 observations of the various instruments. Such broad averages afford what must be considered as true means with which extremes may be compared as regards heat, pressure, and moisture. The observations of sixteen years have been translated from the Transactions of the Horticultural Society into those of the Royal Philosophical Society of Berlin; and up to the present time a weekly return has been published in the "Gardeners' Chronicle." Among other papers from Mr. Thompson's hand, connected with this branch of science, is a Table of Temperatures for the use of Gardeners, published in the Journal of the Horticultural Society, which furnishes an idea of the climate of some 900 places, situated in different latitudes.

With a modesty peculiarly his own, and with a degree of plodding perseverance which cannot be too highly recommended as an example to the rising generation of horticulturists, Mr. Thompson has worked on at these, his favourite pursuits, with zeal and assiduity, setting before himself the object of rendering service to science rather than that of personal gain; and now, after a long and useful career, when his physical powers begin to fail him, it has been thought that an expression of public sympathy, in acknowledgment of his life-long labours, would serve to gladden and solace the remaining years of his life.

Subscriptions will be received by the Society's bankers (London and County Bank, Kensington), by the Secretaries, Dr. Hogg, 99 St. George's Road, Pimlico, S.W., and Thomas Moore, Esq., Botanic Garden, Chelsea, S.W.; or Mr. James Richards, Assistant-Secretary of the Royal Horticultural Society, South Kensington, W.

Elected a Fellow of the Society 7th August 1827; one of the first ten original subscribers to the Royal Botanic Society. Sir Benjamin was a great lover of flowers, and laid out his own gardens at Llanover, which are remarkable for the immense profusion of flowers out of doors. He never had a greenhouse, but was most successful in preserving thousands of cuttings in pits for planting out in the spring. He was very fond of the Fir-tree tribe, the Deodara, Wellingtonia, and Araucaria especially flourishing in his grounds, as well as other evergreens. He personally superintended the cultivation of his Roses, of which he had separate plantations. He also was very partial to Magnolias, and had many fine varieties growing at Llanover. Also Paulonias and the scarlet-berried elder (from the Black Forest in Germany), reared from seed sent by Frances Baroness de Bunsen, of which tree the late Sir William Hooker said it was most rare to see it flourish in Great Britain, and that it never succeeded at Kew. It is luxuriant at Llanover, bearing profusely clusters of resplendent berries, the colour of scarlet sealing-wax. Lord Llanover's gardens have numberless shrubs and trees raised from the seed brought by himself and Lady Llanover from Italy, Switzerland, and Germany. Among these there are Virginian Creepers and varieties of nuts. These gardens are remarkable for the combination of woodland scenery and native forest trees, especially the Holly, entwined with climbing Roses, and many flowering shrubs, with wide walks amidst scenes of sylvan beauty, intermingled with abundance of water—rapid brooks, pools, fountains, and numerous wells.

The Garden at Normanton, Lord Aveland's seat in Rutland, was an object of great interest and amusement to him, more especially the Flower Garden, which was designed by him. During the spring and autumn, which seasons he generally spent at Normanton, the garden was always to be seen a blaze of colour, for his object was to get rich masses of brilliant flowers which harmonised well. The plants employed for this effect were (for the autumn garden) those as hardy as possible, so that they stood the early frosts, such as Geraniums of different hues, Chrysanthemums, flowering Asters, Calceolarias, Verbena venosa, Tagetes signata, &c. &c., and for mixed borders a large variety of Michaelmas Daisies, Tritonias, &c. For the spring garden, plants which might be called common, some of them wild, but extremely effective from the artistic manner in which they were arranged, Illiciums of various sorts, Aubrietia claronicum, Anemones, Primroses of all colours, &c. &c.

16th November.—JOHN AMES, Esq., of Clevelands, Lyme, Dorset, aged 83. Fellow of the Society of Arts and Royal Institution, elected a Fellow of the Society 20th July 1841. Mr. Ames took always a deep interest in the sciences of Botany and Horticulture, and the successful progress of the Royal Horticultural Society. His garden was made and laid out under his own direction, and was chiefly remarkable for its plain, practical arrangements and the excellent selection of its fruit trees, and also for the large orchard-house lately built.

18th November.—Captain JAMES MANGLES, R.N., F.R.S., F.R.G.S., of Fairfield, Exeter, aged 82. Elected a Fellow of the Society 7th April 1857.

1st December.—CHARLES GRAY ROUND, Esq., of University Club, Pall Mall, S.W., and Birch Hall, Colchester, aged 71. Elected a Fellow of the Society 17th April 1827.

19th December.—Lady CLAY, of 91 Eaton Square, S.W.

28th December.—Mr. JAMES DICKSON, of Newton Nurseries, Chester.

Miscellaneous.

SCIENTIFIC HORTICULTURE.

The following resolutions were passed at a recent meeting of the Council. Further information will be communicated in the next number of the "Proceedings."

1. The Fruit and Floral Committees of the Royal Horticultural Society have for their objects the encouragement of the production of new and improved varieties of fruits and vegetables, plants and flowers, and the examination of the pomological and floral subjects submitted at the meetings, or grown in the Society's Garden, at Chiswick; and these committees have dealt with the results of Horticultural practice brought under their notice in a manner which leaves little to be desired. The Fruit Committee have also disseminated reliable information respecting the adaptability of particular kinds of fruits to the varied conditions of soil, locality, &c., throughout the United Kingdom.

2. At the general meetings of the Society, the objects of scientific interest which have appeared before the Fruit and Floral Committee meetings, together with other points bearing on physiology and the culture of plants and trees, have been regularly brought forward and occasionally discussed.

3. The Council now consider it advisable to invite the co-operation of physiological botanists and of chemists in the formation of a Committee, whose special functions shall be to promote and encourage the application of physiology and botany to purposes of practical culture, whether of plants, or trees and shrubs, and to originate experiments which may assist in the elucidation of such questions.

4. The Committee shall consist of a chairman, who shall be a member of Council, three vice-chairmen, and any number of gentlemen, whether Fellows or not, interested in vegetable physiology and horticultural chemistry. The three Horticultural Directors are to be considered ex-officio members of the Committee.

5. The Committee shall sit on the days fixed for the general meetings of the Society, or at such times and places as may be found convenient.

6. The foregoing resolutions shall, as a preliminary step, be communicated to botanists, physiologists and chemists of distinction, with a request for their co-operation as members of the Committee, or as corresponding members.

CHISWICK STUDENTS.

The Council is glad to have to state that the Chiswick Board of Directors report that the two senior students—those who have continued at the Garden since the movement was first organised two years since—are now eligible to enter on situations of trust. They have both highly distinguished themselves at the examinations, and are reported by the Superintendent to be persevering young men, well grounded in the art and practice of gardening.

BALLOT FOR PLANTS.

A Ballot for Plants will take place on Tuesday April 21st, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. 4-Guinea Fellows, or 40-Guinea Life Members, are entitled to name eight lots; 2-Guinea Fellows, or 20-Guinea Life Members, to name four lots. It will be sufficient if Fellows will make a mark opposite the numbers of the lots they select, and return their lists, with their names and addresses written thereon, to the Assistant-Secretary (James Richards), at the Offices of the Society, South Kensington, W., on or before Tuesday, the 7th April. After that date no applications can be attended to. The result of the ballot will be communicated in the "Proceedings;" and the plants which the Fellows may obtain by it, together with those gained at the ballot 18th February, will be forwarded together at the close of the season, unless Fellows intimate their wish to have them sooner, and in that case they are requested to notify how they wish them sent.

The list of plants is enclosed with this number of the "Proceedings."

N.B.—The result of the ballot on 18th February last is also published with this number of the "Proceedings."

GARDEN SUPERINTENDENT.

The Council of the Royal Horticultural Society have to announce that they have arranged with the Garden Superintendent, Mr. George Eyles, that he shall give to Fellows of the Society his advice and assistance in the laying-out and management of their gardens, at the rate of one guinea per visit, with travelling expenses.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING,

TUESDAY, FEB. 11, 1868.

Mr. W. WILSON SAUNDERS, F.R.S. in the Chair.

The minutes of the last Annual Meeting having been read and signed, Messrs. Geo. E. Blenkins and Robert Fortune were appointed scrutineers.

The ASSISTANT-SECRETARY (James Richards) then read the following Report.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL TO THE GENERAL MEETING.

11TH FEBRUARY 1868.

1. The Council is happy to be able to make, on the whole, a satisfactory Report to the Fellows of the present state and future prospects of the Society. The subscriptions received from Fellows during the past year amount to £8,027, as compared with £8,176 in 1866, £7,975 in 1865, and £7,840 in 1864. One gratifying sign of growing confidence in the future of the Society is the fact of twenty-five old Fellows of the Society, who had resigned, having again become members.

2. A new and most legitimate and promising source of future income has also been opened, while a wider sphere has at the same time been given to the operations of the Society. The Exhibition at Bury St. Edmunds, which was announced in last year's Report, has more than answered the most sanguine expectations of its promoters. In spite of unpropitious weather, it proved not only eminently successful as an Horticultural Exhibition, but also as a financial speculation. The Council confidently anticipates a still more decided success from the Show which it is proposed to hold this year at Leicester; for there is no reason to doubt that the interest, great as it was, which was taken in the success of their Show by the horticulturists of Bury St. Edmunds and its neighbourhood will be at least equalled at Leicester, while the population of the latter town is very much greater. The deputation which was sent by the Society to make the necessary arrangements there met, moreover, with the most gratifying assurances of support; a guarantee fund was raised in the town without any difficulty, and special prizes to a large amount have already been promised. The Autumnal Provincial Shows thus bid fair to become one of the most effectual and popular means of furthering the objects for which the Society is incorporated; and, while they may be expected to add considerably to the funds of the Society, will tend to encourage and promote the study and love of Horticulture throughout the country.

3. The Council refer also with the most lively satisfaction to another evidence of the increasing usefulness and spreading influence of the Society. There are now no less than 52 Floricultural and Horticultural Societies in union, and of these 24 joined during the past year.

4. The accounts of the Society, which have been placed in the hands of the Fellows, will further show that the Council did not take too hopeful a view of the affairs of the Society when at this time last year they expressed the opinion that, though requiring strict economy, its affairs were in an encouraging position; notwithstanding all the drawbacks arising from the serious monetary depression of the last two years, it will be seen that its revenue for 1867 has considerably exceeded the outlay necessary to carry on its work. The only items on which the Council have permitted any increase of expenditure over that of former years are those relating to Chiswick Garden, and the Fellows will observe that the Chiswick Board state in the annexed Report that, even with this increase, more funds are wanted to bring the Society's working at that place into full efficiency. The Council, therefore, in the belief that a judicious outlay in the manner suggested in the Report alluded to will result in increased produce, as well as increase of general usefulness, have made some further additions to the Chiswick labour item for this year.

5. The labours at Chiswick during the past season have met with much success. M. Bausé, the foreman of the Floral Department, has succeeded in the production of an entirely new race of golden-leaved Caladiums; and in the Pomological Department many interesting trials of varieties of fruits and vegetables have been carried out, including one of a valuable collection of figs. The Fellows are referred to the Report of the Chiswick Board of Direction for fuller information on these subjects, and their attention is particularly called to the request of the Board that any Fellows of the Society who may possess uncommon and attractive species of hardy herbaceous perennials will aid the Chiswick collection of plants of this character by contributions of such as they can spare, or by gifts of seeds.

6. The Council call attention to the annexed Report of the Examinations in Horticulture for the past year. The success of the Chiswick students is particularly gratifying; and the Council have now, in compliance with the recommendation of the Horticultural Directors, arranged for providing a few Lectures and Demonstrations in aid of the practical studies of these young men.

7. The Meetings of the Fruit and Floral Committees have been, as usual, very well attended during the past season, and the Council have reason to believe that the valuable labours of the gentlemen composing these Committees greatly influence the progress of Horticulture throughout the country. The Afternoon General Meetings, also, which follow the Committee Meetings, have been most successful, both as respects the appreciation of them by the Fellows and the subjects which have been discussed. The results of the various Meetings and Exhibitions of the Society will appear in the forthcoming number of the Journal, edited by the Rev. M. J. Berkeley.

8. The four days' Show of June last, held in the Great Tent, was a great success in a Horticultural point of view. Various opinions for and against the continuance of a Show beyond the first or second day have been offered; but as yet the Council see no reason to regret that they have made the experiment, and they propose to repeat it this year. The Exhibition of June last was indeed continued for a whole week, the greater number of the Exhibitors having at once (in many cases at considerable inconvenience) acceded to the Council's wish to have it kept open on the Whit-Monday. The Council have also added a second day to the Special Prize Show. The only other alteration of the last year's programme is the breaking up of the two Spring Shows into three, with a slight addition to the total amount offered in prizes. The charming fortnight's Show of Spring Flowers will be repeated on an increased scale. The Society is under great obligations to Mr. W. Paul for the spirit and energy he displayed in this Exhibition, which has now become so prized a feature of the Society's yearly arrangements. Messrs. Lane & Son, Berkhamstead, will also make an Exhibition in the Arcades of their Plants and Flowers during the month of April; and Messrs. Waterer & Godfrey's Exhibition of Rhododendrons, discontinued last year in consequence of the damage done by the severe frosts, will, the Council hope, again be counted this year among the attractions of the Gardens.

9. The Council have, in former Reports, made known to the Fellows that the Exhibitions of the Society are no longer a source of income as formerly, but now involve a considerable loss. Each season renders a recovery from this condition of things more unlikely. The expenditure on last year's Exhibitions was £1,727 18s. 3d.; the receipts only £1,402 7s. 6d. It is manifest, therefore, that the Society must proceed with caution in again attempting any increase in their number. Nevertheless, the Council think very well of the proposition that has been made to them to add to their Programme some small Shows of special subjects, which would otherwise escape competition, owing to their time of flowering not coinciding with the London season; and they will be quite prepared to give facilities for holding such minor Shows as may appear to have interest for a sufficient number of cultivators and admirers to give a probability of success. The best test of such interest would be a proposition on the part of Horticulturists to make special Shows, as has already been done by the cultivators and admirers of Zonal Pelargoniums. The Zonal Pelargonium Show of last season will this year have grown into a very important Exhibition.

10. The Committee of the International Horticultural Exhibition have generously applied the whole of their remaining surplus funds to the acquisition of a Library, to be held in trust for the use of the Society. The only condition annexed is one which the Council are very glad to accede to, viz., that the Library, under proper restrictions, shall be open for consultation to all Horticulturists and Students who may wish to refer to it. The Trustees consist of three officers of the Committee and three officers of the Council, who are to appoint a seventh member to be President. The arrangements of the Board include the purchase from the Society of the Lindley Library. This Library, and also a collection of works the property of the Society, will shortly be placed in the Council Room.

11. In their Report, presented in the year 1866, the Council made allusion to the contemplated erection of the Royal Albert Hall of Arts and Sciences, as likely to add an additional attraction to the gardens of the Society. During the past year the foundation-stone of the building was laid by Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, and its walls are now fast rising. The Council are making arrangements with the Provisional Committee of that undertaking, from which mutual advantages will be derived. These arrangements will include convenient access to the Hall from the Society's Conservatory.

12. In conclusion, the Council have pleasure in announcing that the claim put forward by them for the recognition of the important services to Horticulture of the old and valued officer of the Society, Mr. Thompson, has resulted in a subscription which at present amounts to 360*l*. Some account of his labours, and a list of the subscribers, were given in the Proceedings of the Society issued last month.

REPORT TO THE COUNCIL FROM THE CHISWICK BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DEC. 1867.

1. The Directors have the satisfaction of reporting that the Chiswick Garden has been thoroughly utilised during the past season, and that the cultural results, under the efficient superintendence of Mr. Barron, have been fully equal to those of former years. They would have desired to have effected something more than has been found possible in regard to the keeping of certain portions of the garden, but the labour rate at their disposal has proved insufficient for the purpose, and they therefore recommend a slight increase of expenditure under this head.

2. The experiment which has been made with reference to the employment of Students for the performance of a portion of the work of the garden has, so far, fairly answered the expectations of its promoters; and the Directors, but for the outlay involved, would willingly extend it so as to offer its advantages to a larger number of young men anxious to use the best means of advancing themselves in their profession. They, however, having past experience in view, think it would be advantageous to provide for the entry of somewhat younger men than the present regulations will admit. They also think that a few Lectures and Demonstrations in aid of the practical studies of these young men, such as were originally contemplated, would now prove a valuable aid to them.

3. The Directors trust that the Society may rely on a continuance of the aid which has been so generously and efficiently afforded to the Chiswick collection by those gentlemen who have obligingly contributed novelties for the various trial collections, since they believe that these experimental trials have more effectually and widely diffused a correct knowledge of the recent acquisitions for the Flower, Fruit, and Vegetable gardens than could have been brought about by any other ready means. They are highly gratified to be able to state that these trial collections, and the standard sorts grown for comparison with them, are sought for with much interest by numerous visitors at the proper season.

4. As regards the Floral Department, some new houses have been completed, and others efficiently repaired, so that the Superintendent has now better accommodation than formerly for growing flowering plants, the chief demand for which is to aid in the decoration of the conservatory at Kensington throughout the year. With this latter object in view, various additions have been made to the collections of stove and greenhouse plants.

5. During the past year, 5,371 plants have been grown for distribution to the Fellows by ballot, and 125,512 packets of vegetable and flower seeds have been also made up and distributed; besides 1,714 plants and 12,512 packets of seeds which have been sent out to the various Societies in union.

6. The provision of materials for the decoration of the garden at South Kensington has been greatly extended, and has correspondingly increased the expenditure at this establishment, both as regards labour and glass accommodation. No less than 45,227 plants thus reared have been contributed by Chiswick for this purpose during the present year.

7. In addition to the plants referred to in the foregoing paragraphs, 927 varieties of plants, old and new, such as pelargoniums, verbenas, tropæolums, calceolarias, &c. have been grown for judicial examination by the Floral Committee. The groups of the older kinds, grown as standards for comparison, were very attractive in their season; but the newer varieties have been less successful, owing chiefly to two causes—the late date and weakly condition in which, in too many cases, the plants are received, and the unpropitious weather of the past summer. It is hoped that in future the plants may be obtained earlier in the season, in better condition, and that more extended and useful results may be obtained.

8. Attention has been given to Hybridising, and the rearing of novelties for the use of the Fellows; and the Directors are highly gratified to be able to report that M. Bausé, the foreman of the Floral Department, has won for himself the credit of having produced an entirely new race of golden-leaved caladiums. A very large number of hybridised caladiums has been reared, showing great variety in the colouring and marking of the leaves, and including amongst them several highly ornamental novelties; but the production of the golden-leaved forms (which include some three or four distinct variations) has been the most marked instance of success. Besides these, some promising variegated zonal pelargoniums have been obtained; as well as a crop of hybridised forms of coleus, and of some other plants, which, however, are not as yet sufficiently developed to show whether any improvement has been gained.

9. Sympathising heartily with the expressions of regret which are frequently heard as to the neglect into which hardy herbaceous perennials have been allowed to fall, to the curtailment of the beauty and interest of English flower gardens, the Directors have set about the formation of a collection of these plants, with the view to revive the taste for them, by facilitating the selection of those best adapted for particular seasons and particular situations. To this end, they hope to secure examples of all the more ornamental and really interesting species. As plants of this character are frequently preserved in country gardens after they disappear from general cultivation, and thus become difficult of access, the Directors trust that the Council will urge upon any Fellows of the Society who may possess uncommon and attractive species the advisability of adding to the Chiswick collection by contributing plants or seeds of any such which they can spare. The Directors anticipate that much interest will be excited by this collection, and that it may induce many Fellows to introduce into these Gardens that much-maligned institution, “the mixed border,” from which, however, they feel satisfied that a large amount of interest may be derived by the lovers of flowers.

10. A collection of subtropical plants has been brought together, and during summer forms a very interesting feature along one of the principal walks in the garden.

11. In the Pomological Department, the Board have to report that, by the removal of the house from South Kensington to Chiswick last spring, the valuable collection of figs has been properly accommodated, and almost the whole of the varieties are in full bearing. During the past season several new and excellent varieties have been discovered, and numerous synonymes have been detected. A report on the varieties which have fruited is in preparation.

The collection of strawberries, to which reference was made in last year's report, as having recently been acquired and planted, is now in a most satisfactory condition. Last summer the greater number of the varieties produced fruit; but as it is anticipated that from the vigorous condition of the plants, and the encouraging prospects for next summer, the whole will then be in bearing, it will be better to make a report on the whole after comparing them with each other and ascertaining their relative qualities and merits.

12. During the past year the Board instituted a trial of all the varieties of grapes that are included under the group of Chasselas. These were grown in pots in a heated pit, but the experiment was not sufficiently successful to warrant a report being made on the various varieties forming the collection. It is, however, intended to repeat the experiment next summer.

13. A trial of all the varieties of garden peas was highly successful, and tended to the acquisition of much valuable information relating to the different varieties, and especially to those of recent introduction. The same success attended the trials of tomatoes and lettuce. On all of these subjects, complete reports have been prepared.

14. Another of the most important functions of the Chiswick Garden has been liberally worked in the distribution of grafts of fruit trees, of which no less than 1,500 parcels have been received by Fellows of the Society during the past season.

15. The demolition of the old and diseased fruit trees which occupied some of the belts in the kitchen garden having been attended with beneficial results to the garden, the Board would suggest to the Council that the greater portion of the old orchard of unproductive standard trees should be trenched over; and the ground appropriated to the reception of the young trees raised from scions of those which had been destroyed, along with others forming a numerous collection which have been obtained at various times from the pomologists of the continent of Europe and the United States of America. These old orchard trees, as they at present exist, are perfectly worthless, and occupy a large extent of ground, which is thereby rendered unproductive. If this were done, not only would there be room for the young plantation of pyramidal and bush fruit trees, but space available also for the production of vegetables and the more common fruits for which there is an increasing demand by the Fellows; while there is less enquiry for grapes and the higher class of fruits.

16. The peach wall, which at one time was the pride of the garden, has for some years been gradually losing its interest; the trees, many of which are coeval with the wall itself, having fallen into the decrepitude of age, and occupy space which might be more serviceably employed. The Board would suggest that these old trees be removed, and their places filled with young trees of choice varieties, which will serve not only as a source of income by the sale of the fruit, but as examples of the different methods of training and the most approved modes of pruning wall-fruit trees. As the trees at present exist, they afford no instruction in this latter respect, and it is most important in an establishment like the garden of the Society, in which experimental and educational purposes form so important a feature, that the training and pruning of fruit trees should be on the most approved and modern principles.

EXTRACT FROM THE REPORT OF THE POMOLOGICAL EXAMINER.

The examinations of gardeners as candidates for the Society's certificates, which were commenced in 1866, have been continued during the past year with most satisfactory results. One of these took place at Midsummer last, when seven candidates presented themselves, six of them being students at the Society's garden at Chiswick, and one from Battersea Park. Of the former, three took second class in fruit and vegetable culture, one a third, and two were unsuccessful.

At the examination in December last the number who presented themselves had risen to fifteen, and this shows the growing popularity of these examinations. In this case six of the candidates were Chiswick students, four were from Kew, and the remaining five from various gardens throughout the country. Of these, two (Chiswick students) took first-class in fruit and vegetable culture, five took extra seconds, three seconds, three thirds, while the remaining two did not pass.

The marked improvement that the Chiswick students exhibit at the successive examinations shows that, as a school for horticulture, Chiswick supplies all the requirements necessary for that purpose; and the steady progress that the young men have made who entered the school when it was instituted is an evidence of the earnestness of purpose with which they are actuated, as well as a proof that the instruction communicated is of such a character as to enable the young men to take a high position in the gardening world.

I have to observe with pleasure that the great National establishment at Kew has sent up so large a proportion of the candidates at the last examination, and that the endeavour of the Society to establish a sound horticultural education is so well seconded by the authorities of that establishment. It is very desirable that not only in all public, but in all private establishments where young men show indications of ability and a desire to distinguish themselves, the heads will use their influence to induce the young men to prepare for these examinations, thereby affording them a stimulus which cannot fail to operate for their advantage. The establishments from which the other young men have come up are, the gardens of the Royal Botanic Society, Regent's Park; Battersea Park; Earl of Abergavenny's, at Eridge Castle; Benham Park, Newbury; and Court Yard, Eltham, Kent.

EXTRACT FROM THE REPORT OF THE EXAMINER IN FLORICULTURE.

In the department of Floriculture the students have shown that they possess a very satisfactory amount of practical information. Their answers generally indicate an intelligent, and in some cases a thorough and intimate, acquaintance with the subject propounded, especially if it be of a practical nature. Experience has shown that questions on practical subjects are more fully and clearly responded to than those which have a more scientific bearing. Thus, for example, it is found that a more complete answer will be given as to the mode of treating any particular plant or family than when the question relates to such points as an enumeration of the species of that particular family, or the popular features of difference between them. While it is thus gratifying to be able to report that these young men are acquiring a good practical knowledge of this branch of their profession, which will fit them hereafter to occupy situations where such knowledge would be called into active exercise, it is to be observed that it would be well for them also in their youth to master as far as possible the elements of theoretical horticulture.

Mr. Saunders moved that the Report just read be received and adopted; and Mr. Liggins having seconded the motion, it was carried unanimously.

The scrutineers then delivered in the ballot papers, and the chairman informed the meeting that the votes were unanimous in favour of the following members of council and officers for the ensuing year:—

The retiring members of the Council were Viscount Sandon, Mr. Wentworth W. Buller, and the Rev. Joshua Dix. In their room were elected Mr. John Clutton, Mr. J. Russell Reeves, F.R.S., and Mr. Wm. Marshall.

The following were elected officers:—His Grace the Duke of Buccleuch, K.G. as President, Mr. John Clutton as Treasurer, and Lieutenant-Colonel Scott, R.E., as Secretary.

The Expenses Committee were Mr. John Clutton, Lieutenant-Colonel Scott, and Mr. Henry Cole, C.B.

The Auditors were Mr. James Nicholson, Mr. John Gibson, and Mr. Robert Hudson.

Mr. Liggins proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman, Council, and Lieutenant-Colonel Scott, the Secretary, for the advantages which the Fellows had derived from their services. Captain Dowman seconded the motion, which was carried by acclamation.

The business of the meeting then terminated.

SCHEDULES FOR THE SPRING AND SUMMER EXHIBITIONS,

TO BE HELD AT THE GARDENS, SOUTH KENSINGTON, W.

REGULATIONS FOR THE EXHIBITIONS.

I. The Prizes offered in the accompanying Schedules are open to all competitors complying with these Regulations.

II. Exhibitors must give at least five clear days' notice in writing of the Class or Classes in which they intend to compete, and of the average diameter of the plants to be exhibited.

This is to be done by filling up and forwarding to the Superintendent at South Kensington the printed forms provided for the purpose.

III. Cards corresponding with the entries will be furnished on the morning of the Exhibition at the Superintendent's office.

Exhibitors will be responsible for the proper placing of these cards, and they are requested to satisfy themselves that the cards correctly describe the objects exhibited.

The Society cannot correct, or be responsible for, mistakes arising from the non-observance of this or any other Regulation.

IV. No specimens will be received after half past 8 o'clock on the morning of the Exhibition.

The Superintendent has instructions to refuse all exhibitions which he considers unworthy of being shown.

V. Officers of the Society will direct the placing of all specimens.

It is necessary that all Flowers or Plants be carefully labelled with their scientific names, and, where practicable, with the name of the country whence introduced. Florists' Flowers must bear their customary names.

Seedling Flowers exhibited as novelties must be named.

VI. Only bonâ fide exhibitors, and such assistants as may be absolutely required for the arrangement of their specimens, will be admitted before the doors are closed at half past 8 A.M.; after this hour no person will be allowed to enter, and all persons must retire before 10 A.M., except such as may be officially retained by the Society.

VII. A clear passage-way to the stands and tables must be preserved during the hours of arrangement, and all persons obstructing it will be subject to immediate removal from the Garden.

The Judges will proceed to make their awards at 10 A.M., before which hour the exhibitors' arrangements must be completed.

VIII. One prize only can be awarded to an exhibitor in any class, except in the Miscellaneous Class, and in the case of Certificates granted to New Plants and Seedlings.

The Judges have the right of withholding the prize where specimens may be considered unworthy of it, in order to prevent an inferior collection obtaining an award.

The Judges will be at liberty to add to the number of prizes specified, in cases of very decided merit, so long as they do not exceed the total amount offered in each class.

IX. All specimens must be the bonâ fide property of the exhibitor or his master, or they will not be eligible to compete for the prizes. At least one month's previous possession will be considered requisite to constitute ownership, except in well-ascertained cases of plants newly imported.

X. The decision of the Judges is final. Any prize fraudulently obtained will be forfeited, and will be awarded to the competitor immediately succeeding in the same class; and the exhibitor proved, before a Committee of Exhibitors named by the Council, to have acted fraudulently, will be excluded from future Shows.

XI. For the Spring Exhibitions, exhibitors' pass-tickets will be furnished as follows:—

For collections of 9 plants and upwards, 2 passes for 1st collection, and 1 for each additional collection.

For collections of 6 plants and upwards, 1 pass for 1st collection, and 1 for each additional collection.

But no exhibitor can have more than 4 passes.

For the Summer Exhibitions, including the Special Show:—

Classes containing 9 plants and upwards; for 1st collection, 3 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

Classes containing 6 plants and upwards; for 1st collection, 2 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

No ticket will be given for a single Specimen Plant, or a single dish of Fruit.

No exhibitor can take more than 8 passes.

Breakfast tickets will be issued in equal numbers with the passes for the Exhibition to be held on June 2nd, for the first day only.

XII. The Exhibition on the 14th of March will close at 5, and that on the 18th of April at 6 P.M.; all the other Exhibitions will close at 6.30 P.M.; after which time all specimens will be given up to their owners, or to such persons as may be authorised to receive them.

XIII. In awarding the prizes the Judges, will be influenced by correct naming.

The Council will not be responsible for damage done to plants during or after the Exhibition, but all ordinary care will be taken of them.

REGULATIONS.

1. All persons, whether Fellows of the Society or not, are invited to exhibit at the Floral Meetings, and to contribute to the formation of the Collections at Chiswick.

2. The subjects for the consideration of the Committee are to be delivered at the Council Room, South Kensington, not later than 10.30 A.M., so as to be entered and ready for examination by 11 o'clock.

3. The necessary particulars respecting each subject exhibited are to be communicated in writing to the Secretary of the Committee.

NOTE.—The name and post address of the Exhibitor; the name of the flower, if a seedling, and that of the native country if an importation, will be considered necessary particulars. Exhibitors are invited to communicate in writing such further details of the origin and introduction or peculiarities of their flowers as they may think interesting for publication. If these are legibly written on cards sent with the plants, it will greatly add to the interest which will be felt in such exhibition, by the Fellows who attend to inspect the plants at the conclusion of the Floral meeting.

4. The merits of the subjects exhibited shall not be discussed or decided on in the presence of the owners, or of persons interested in them.

5. Sufficient examples of every subject exhibited to enable the Committee to form a fair opinion of its qualities must be produced. In all practicable cases, the growing plant will be required. Each kind will have to be separately entered.

NOTE.—Exhibitors of seedling florists' flowers, and others, will facilitate the working of the Committee by the production of specimens and collections of known varieties to serve as references, and for comparison with novelties.

To save expenses of carriage, and to facilitate exhibitions by amateur growers, cut specimens, if sufficiently ample, will be admissible in cases where the habit of the plant is well known, as, for example, in many newly-imported varieties of cultivated species of Orchids.

6. ALL SEEDLING FLOWERS MUST BE NAMED, as a means of future recognition; if not named, they will be passed over.

7. Newly imported, or other new species of plants, not florists' varieties, will have to be submitted to the Botanical Director, that they may be correctly named.

NOTE.—Exhibitors of this class of plants will greatly facilitate the operations of the Committee by forwarding, whenever practicable, previous to the days of meeting, materials for examination, and it will be regarded as an indispensable condition of their being examined, that the countries from which they may have been imported shall be correctly stated. These materials are to be sent to the Society's offices, addressed to 'The Botanical Director.'

8. The Committee will exercise the power of examining with the necessary minuteness all subjects submitted for its opinion.

9. FIRST-CLASS, SECOND-CLASS, AND SPECIAL CERTIFICATES, AND COMMENDATIONS will be awarded, at the discretion of the majority of the members present, to such of the novelties exhibited as may be thought sufficiently deserving.

10. Medals will be awarded by the Council for subjects recommended by the Committee as evincing meritorious cultivation, but which are not exhibited as novelties.

11. All packages of plants or flowers must be addressed to the Secretary to the Committee; they must be delivered Carriage Free, and must be forwarded at the risk of the sender.

12. No award will be made to yearling seedlings of Cinerarias or Pelargoniums, nor will any judicial opinion be passed upon their merits; but they may be staged for inspection.

13. If the subjects, whether plants or cut flowers, are left for the night, it will be at the risk of the senders, but all ordinary care will be used to protect them from injury.

14. All plants or flowers sent to the Garden for trial shall be submitted for the opinion of the Committee; and no official opinion on the merits of such plants or flowers shall be given by any paid officer of the Society.

Royal Horticultural Society.

SCHEDULES FOR THE GRAND SUMMER EXHIBITION TO BE HELD AT LEICESTER,

ON THE 16TH, 17TH, 18TH, 20TH, 21ST, AND 22ND OF JULY 1868.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO EXHIBITORS.

The Council have great pleasure in announcing that through the liberality of the Directors of the Midland Railway Company, all Plants, &c., conveyed over their line will be carried from the Show (provided they remain the property of the person who transmitted them to the Exhibition) free of all charge.

Exhibitors will be allowed to remove their plants after the 21st instant; but one-half of the proceeds from the admissions on the 22nd (the day of the Nottingham races) will be paid to the Exhibitors who allow their plants to remain on that day.

N.B.—The tents will be ready for the reception of plants on Wednesday, July 15th, and it is hoped that all who can do so will bring them in on that day.

REGULATIONS FOR THE EXHIBITION.

I. The prizes offered in the accompanying Schedule are open to all competitors complying with these Regulations.

II. Exhibitors must give at least fourteen clear days' notice in writing of the class or classes in which they intend to compete, and of the average diameter of the plants to be exhibited.

This is to be done by filling up and forwarding to the Superintendent at South Kensington the printed forms provided for the purpose.

III. Cards corresponding with the entries will be furnished on the morning of the Exhibition at the Committee Tent.

Exhibitors will be responsible for the proper placing of these cards, and they are requested to satisfy themselves that the cards correctly describe the objects exhibited.

The Society cannot correct, or be responsible for, mistakes arising from the non-observance of this or any other Regulation.

IV. No specimens will be received after half-past eight o'clock on the morning of the Exhibition, excepting cut flowers and fruit, which will be received up to 9.30.

The Superintendent has instructions to refuse all exhibitions which he considers unworthy of being shown.

V. Officers of the Society will direct the placing of all specimens.

It is necessary that all flowers or plants be carefully labelled with their scientific names, and, where practicable, with the name of the country whence introduced. Florists' flowers and fruits must bear their customary names.

VI. Only bonâ fide exhibitors, and such assistants as may be absolutely required for the arrangement of their specimens, will be admitted before the doors are closed at half-past nine a.m.; after this hour no person will be allowed to enter, and all persons must retire before 10.30 a.m., except such as may be officially retained by the Society.

VII. A clear passage-way to the stands and tables must be preserved during the hours of arrangement, and all persons obstructing it will be subject to immediate removal from the Tents.

The Judges will proceed to make their awards at 10.30 a.m., before which hour the exhibitors' arrangements must be completed.

VIII. One prize only can be awarded to any exhibitor in any class, except those for Miscellaneous Subjects and New Plants.

The Judges have the right of withholding the prize where specimens may be considered unworthy of it, in order to prevent an inferior collection obtaining an award.

The Judges will be at liberty to add to the number of prizes specified, in cases of very decided merit, so long as they do not exceed the total amount offered in each class.

IX. All specimens must be the bonâ fide property of the exhibitor or his master, or they will not be eligible to compete for the prizes. At least one month's previous possession will be considered requisite to constitute ownership, except in well-ascertained cases of plants newly imported.

X. The decision of the Judges is final. Any prize fraudulently obtained will be forfeited, and will be awarded to the competitor immediately succeeding in the class.

Seedling Flowers exhibited as novelties must be named.

XI. Exhibitors' pass-tickets will be furnished as follows:—

Classes containing 9 plants and upwards; for first collection, 3 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

Classes containing 6 plants and upwards; for first collection, 2 passes, and 1 for each additional collection.

In classes where the plants are small, the numbers of tickets given will be reduced, and no ticket will be given for a single Specimen Plant, or a single dish of Fruit.

Breakfast Tickets will be given on the first morning of the Exhibition only. No exhibitor can take more than 6 passes, or 4 Breakfast Tickets.

XII. The Exhibition will close at six o'clock on the 22nd July, after which time all specimens will be given up to their owners, or to such persons as may be authorised to receive them.

The Council will not be responsible for damage done to plants during the Exhibition, but all ordinary care will be taken of them.

RHODODENDRON SHOW.

Messrs. Waterer and Godfrey, of Knapp Hill, Woking, have this year made a magnificent display of these favourite plants, which have been in profuse flower; the ground under the great tent has been entirely re-arranged, the effect being to render this exhibition finer than it has as yet appeared.

LIBRARY.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, the Committee of the International Horticultural Exhibition having offered to invest the balance of the profits realised by that Exhibition (over 1,850%, after presenting 1,000% to the Gardeners' Benevolent Institution) in the purchase of books to form a Library in connection with the Royal Horticultural Society, and to be called the "Lindley Library," in testimony of the respect in which the late Dr. Lindley's memory is held, on the condition that the books so purchased, and any others which might hereafter be presented, should be vested in seven Trustees, and that the books should, under rules, be available for the use of the Fellows of the Society and other horticultural students,—the Council agreed with pleasure to accept the offer, and appointed W. Wilson Saunders, Esq., a Vice-President of the R.H.S., John Clutton, Esq., the Hon. Treasurer of the R.H.S., and Lieut.-Col. H. Y. D. Scott, R.E., the Hon. Secretary of the R.H.S., as their three Trustees; and the International Committee appointed Dr. Hogg, Dr. Maxwell Masters, and Thomas Moore, Esq., to represent them; and the six having agreed, nominated Sir C.

Wentworth Dilke, Bart., M.P., as the seventh, and the Trust-Deed has this day (May 5, 1868) been signed.

The first purchase made by the Trustees is Dr. Lindley's Botanical and Horticultural Library, at a cost of £600, and steps are being taken to make the Library available. As the Trustees are unanimously of opinion that the addition of such a Library to the Horticultural Society would be a great boon to students of Horticulture and Botany, and also materially promote the best interests of the Royal Horticultural Society, and as the Trustees wish to make it as perfect as possible, they think it right to call upon the Fellows of the Royal Horticultural Society to aid them with funds and presents of books, to extend the usefulness of the Library which has thus been commenced.

The Trustees have the gratification of being able to announce that Her Majesty the Queen has been graciously pleased to present to the Lindley Library a botanical work of the value of twenty-five guineas.

The Trustees are also happy to be able to state that already several Fellows of the Society and other Gentlemen have promised valuable assistance; amongst them,

The first meeting of the above Committee was held on Tuesday the 20th April, and there were present—Mr. Wilson Saunders in the chair, Messrs. Murray, Gilbert, Scott, Moore, Abel, Masters, Welwitsch, Fortune, Marshall, Voelcker, Hogg, Wilson, Thomson, Clarke, De la Rue, and Berkeley; and the following address by the Secretary, the Rev. M. J. Berkeley, was read, viz.:—

“As this is the first meeting of the Scientific Committee of the Horticultural Society, it seems advisable that the Secretary should offer some observations on its objects, and the best means of carrying them out effectually. It is above all things necessary that we should perfectly understand the position in which we are placed as a Committee, and the more especially as its members are not necessarily Fellows of the Society.

“The Society, it must be remembered, is not exactly in the same position as most other learned Societies, with the exception perhaps of the Zoological Society. Though the income is large, it is not simply available, as in other scientific bodies, for purely scientific objects. The funds applicable to publication are necessarily limited, and it is to this cause especially that the discontinuance of the first series of the Journal, and the occasional appearance of the new series, are attributable, and not to any lukewarmness or narrowness of views on the part of the Society. If the history of learned Societies were to be accurately traced, we should find that the appearance of their Transactions has for the most part been irregular, and, in consequence, the publication of important papers has frequently been seriously delayed; and for this, amongst other reasons, the ‘Comptes Rendus’ of the meetings of the French Institute was projected, to enable authors of valuable memoirs to register their discoveries, or, in other words, ‘pour prendre date.’ It must not therefore be assumed that our Journal can be published oftener than once or twice a year, or, under the most favourable circumstances, more frequently than once a quarter, but as reports will undoubtedly appear in our leading horticultural papers, no unwillingness on the part of authors to present memoirs at our meetings need on this score be anticipated.

“The object of our meetings, as stated in the number of the ‘Proceedings’ just published, is to promote and encourage the application of Physiology and Botany to purposes of practical culture, whether of plants or trees or shrubs, and to originate experiments which may assist in the elucidation of such questions. The terms, it is clear, are sufficiently large to include everything which can come within the scope of a Botanical Committee, and are by no means to be confined to what may strictly be termed physiology or biology. Morphology as well as vital action will occasionally come before us, questions of correct nomenclature, information of general horticultural or more purely botanical interest, botanical geography, in short, everything which does not fairly come within the compass of the Floral or Fruit Committees. The several Botanical Directors will naturally bring before us any matter of interest which may occur in the fruit or floral departments, or which may suggest itself at Chiswick, such as have usually been laid before the Society at its Tuesday meetings; doubtful plants will be presented to us for determination, subjects which require elucidation will be mooted, and occasional papers read in accordance with the especial objects of the Committee. Not only is it hoped that individual members of the Committee will help us, but the co-operation of the Fellows of the Society in general, and indeed of men of science, whether members or not, is earnestly invited.

“As regards purely physiological matters, it is highly necessary that we should set out with a distinct understanding. It is easy to suggest experiments, but we must at the same time appreciate the difficulties which attend them.

Any expectation that the Society itself can at once enter upon a large series of delicate experiments would only meet with disappointment. We ourselves cannot fail to appreciate at once the difficulties of the subject, but it is necessary also that the members of the Society, and the horticultural world in general, should equally realise the true state of the case. The successful conduct of purely physiological experiments requires an innate love of the necessary research, unwearied labour in the pursuit, uninterrupted leisure, and a rare combination of tact and talent, patient of failure, yet confident of ultimate success, at once free from prejudice, and ardent in the pursuit of the especial object of research. It must be a labour of love, or it will lead to nothing. The Society trusts that the establishment of this Committee may inspire some of its members with the requisite zeal; but it must at once be clearly understood that it would be impossible for it as a preliminary step to organise a staff purely for such a purpose. It would be almost hopeless at the present moment to find a person competent for the leader of such a staff, even at a large salary; several assistants would be requisite, perfect instruments and a chemical laboratory, while the person who might be great in one direction would be almost useless in another. Such investigations must to a great extent be carried out in the first instance at least by private individuals, but the Society would not be backward in giving pecuniary assistance where there was a reasonable prospect of important results. Minor experiments would indeed immediately come within the scope of the Society, as the reciprocal influence of stock and graft, the modifications produced by different stocks, varieties in the mode of culture, the influence of different kinds of manure, and indeed a host of other matters meteorological, physiological, and practical, which may tend to the promotion of scientific Horticulture.

“There is also another direction in which the Committee might be extremely useful, and which would at once be acceptable to all our members, and to all lovers of horticulture. It is frequently a complaint that plants in collections are so badly named, and that the correct appreciation of what may be called their botanical attributes, in contradistinction to those which are simply floricultural, is at present so very imperfect. This arises in great measure from the want of useful manuals, from which the necessary information can be obtained. When the number of plants under cultivation was comparatively small, the Hortus Kewensis was available for the more scientific gardeners; but though there are some praiseworthy exceptions, such as Loudon’s Arboretum, the cultivator is for the most part compelled to pore over mere catalogues, which can give him only an empirical knowledge, while as frequently he will fall into error. It is believed that the publication of a series of manuals, judiciously selected, would be highly calculated to promote a general love of scientific botany where there is at present mere floricultural knowledge, and the more so as the desire of mere display seems on the wane, while an appreciation of elegance of form and foliage, and delicacy and variety of structure, is daily increasing. Each volume might be complete in itself, while, if the plan were well carried out, a series of publications would be produced, highly honourable to the Society and of great importance to horticulture. The suggestion I would observe originated with a member of our Committee, who has the power and the will at once to aid in the realisation of such a scheme; and when I mention Dr. Hooker as its originator, it will assuredly be evident how materially it might be promoted by the staff at the Herbarium and the superintendents of the different departments in the Gardens at Kew. Suppose, for instance, we were to undertake a volume on Conifers, for which Gordon’s manual is now quite insufficient; another on Herbaceous plants more usually cultivated; another on rock and Alpine plants; or, to descend to especial genera, one illustrating Dendrobium, Epidendrum, and Oncidium. What a boon would such volumes be to our members! The scheme, moreover, with the aid which has been promised, might be carried out at a comparatively small expense, and with a degree of speed and correctness which would be quite out of the power of any individual.

“The Committee will of course be prepared to receive suggestions as to any other plans or modes of action which may be thought advisable; but it is absolutely necessary that such suggestions should be submitted in writing, that the terms may be distinctly understood. Their ultimate adoption will of course rest with the Council."

1. It was moved and seconded that the meetings should take place at South Kensington, on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month, from March to October; on the third Tuesday in the four winter months, and on the trial days at Chiswick.

2. That a chemical sub-committee should be appointed, consisting of the following members, with power to add to the number:—

F. A. Abel, F.R.S.	Dr. J. H. Gilbert, F.R.S.
Warren De la Rue, F.R.S.	Dr. Voelcker
Prof. E. Frankland	G. F. Wilson, F.R.S.

and that Dr. Voelcker should be Secretary.

3. That the names of some of our leading zoologists should be added to the Committee, and that an invitation to this intent should be sent to

H. T. Stainton	Prof. Westwood
Sir J. Lubbock, Bart.	Dr. Bastian.

4. That a paper should be sent to each member of the Committee to be filled up with suggestions as to subjects for discussion or investigation, and that one or more should be selected at each meeting for consideration at the subsequent Committee.

5. That the subjects for consideration on May 5 should be: 1. Spot in Orchids; 2. Nomenclature of Hybrids.
